WILSON EXPLAINS MEXICAN POLICY

Tells How Huerta Rejected Friendly Proposal to End Revolution.

READS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

All Americans Warned to Leave Mexico at Once—Wilson Advocates Policy of Strict Neutrality.

Washington, August 27.—President Wilson tonight warned all Americans to leave Mexico at once. At the same time the American embassy and all consular representatives throughout the Southern Republic were instructed to "notify all officials, civil and military, in Mexico" that they would be held strictly responsible for harm or injury done to Americans or their property.

Secretary Bryan dispatched long telegrams to the embassy, and all consular representatives quoting extracts from President Wilson's address to Congress today, in which he reviewed the futile peace negotiations with the Huerta Government and the policy of the United States would pursue hereafter towards Mexico.

In these messages the consuls were instructed to render every aid possible to departing Americans, furnishing transportation and any other pecuniary assistance to the needy. They were informed that a sufficient number of ships would be provided to carry away those in seacoast towns.

Foreign governments will be notified of the action of the United States so that they may give similar advice, but the American consuls will help all foreigners in any emergency.

Within a day or two an announcement is expected of the mobilization of a large number of American troops along the Southern frontier to enforce neutrality in the traffic of arms and munitions of war. President Wilson was in touch with Assistant Secretary Breckenridge of the War Department tonight but the nature of his communication was not revealed.

It is believed the President not only is preparing to strengthen the border patrol but desires the strictest vigilance by roops already watching the international boundary. Secretary Garrison, of the war department, it was announced tonight, will be in New York next Wednesday to confer with Frances Burton Harrison, but it was said at the White House that his return to the East from his Western inspection trip was not prompted by any prospective troop movement.

These developments following closely upon the reading of President Wilson of his address to Congress today, in which he outlined the policy of the United States towards Mexico as one of absolute non-interference, and strictest neutrality. The President held out hope for a resumption of negotiations and ultimate success of a policy of persuasian backed by the moral force of the governments of the world.

Situation "Encouraging."

First results of the President's optimism were apparent tonight, when Secretary Bryan announced the receipt of a message from John Lind now at Vera Cruz stating that Senor Gamboa Mexican minister of foreign affairs had sent a new note. Secretary Bryan described the situation as "encouraging" and commented on the fact that he had for several days used the word "unchanged."

Secretary Bryan said that while the Lind message contained only a summary of the Gamboa note, sufficient had been received to warrant taking an encouraging view. Mr. Bryan added that the Gamboa note was in reply to the supplementary suggestions made by Mr. Lind before leaving Mexico City for Vera Cruz.

The President was informed of the late developments, but offered no comment. He was particularly pleased tonight with his reception in Congress. Not only from the applause that greeted him, when began his address, and at its conclusion, but through personal congratulations, President Wilson felt assured that he had behind him the undivided support of Congress irrespective of political party.

The President had an informal talk with Senator Root, Republican, in the Speaker's room just before he was escorted to the house rostrum, and learned that the New York Senator soon would make a speech in support of the administration's policy. Mr. Root's utterances are calculated to attract attention in Latin-America, because of his famous our there a few years ago as Secretary of State.

The President's Policy.

President Woodrow Wilson went to Congress today and revealed how the Huerta Provisional government in Mexico had rejected the friendship of the United States and its effort to aid in the establishment of peace and a government which could be recognized by this nation, and which would be obeyed and respected by Mexico's own people.

In a statement which breathed regret and sympathy in every phrase, the President clung tenaciously to optimism as to the ultimate result, notwithstanding the pessimistic facts confronting the two nations.

After picturing the hopelessness for Mexico if she maintained her present position, "isolated and without friends who can effectually aid her," the President announced the necessity of a firm neutral stand by this government, a policy of "hands off" to await the time of Mexico's awakening. He also voiced an urgent appeal for all Americans to leave Mexico and for the United States to aid them in every

PRAISE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Wilson's Policy Toward Mexico Endorsed by Republican and Democratic Congressional Leaders—Statement.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Congressional leaders declared tonight that President Wilson's vigorous assertion of a definite policy toward Mexico would have the effect of staying in Congress for a time at least, open criticism of the administration, and demands for information. Those who discussed the message agreed in the general statement that it presented a frank and full statement as to the recent negotiations with the Huera governmen, and at the same time definitely outlined the American policy for the future.

Republicans joined the Democrats in the endorsement of the President's utterances. Thus far, however, there has been little detailed discussion of the plans outlined.

"Admirable Document."

"The President's message is an admirable document," said Senator Bacon, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. "It sets forth the facts without reservation, and puts us right before the world. Moreover, I believe it will have a calming effect on our own people, and a soothing influence upon public expression in the United States. The magnificent ovation given the President showed that he has behind him both branches of Congress, without regard to party division."

Senator Lodge, the ranking Republican member of the Foreign Relations committee, also expressed general approval of the message, commending particularly the policy of non-intervention, and the embargo on the shipment of arms across the border, and Senator Root declared the message was "admirable in tone and spirit."

Senators Shively, Williams and Stone, all Democratic members of the Foreign Relations committee, endorsed the document for the policy of peace it outlined, and for its emphatic assertion of the attitude of the United States.

"Lofty in Conception."

House leaders likewise gave their strong endorsement to the President.

"It seems to me that this Mexican situation," said Speaker Clark, "presents a case where silence on the part of most folks is golden. It is ticklish and grave. The President's address to Congress on the subject is admirable—lofty in conception, felicitous in diction. In the very nature of things, he knows more about the situation which changes every day—almost every hour—than the rest of us, and speaks with fuller knowledge. The most practical suggestion that he made was that Americans should come out of Mexico as rapidly and as soon as possible."

No action is looked for on any of the resolutions now pending in the two houses of Congress, calling for information and for steps by the government to protect Americans in Mexico.

HEARING WHITE SLAVE CASE.

Ben C. Heinberg, of Pensacola, Will be Arraigned Today.

Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 27.—A hearing of charges of violation of the Mann white slave act against Ben C. Heinberg, prominent merchant of this city, will be held tomorrow. Heinberg, who is a member of a wealthy Pensacola family, was arrested yesterday charged with having transported Nellie Ward, a 15-year-old girl, from this city to Birmingham, for immoral purposes. A number of witnesses from Birmingham have been summoned to testify. The public will not be admitted to the hearing.

PRISONER ISSUES STATEMENT

Prisoner Thanks Canadians for "Fair Play"—Jerome Leaves for Quebec—Judge "Shocked" at Outbursts.

THREE VICTORIES WON

The three points in which Thaw's lawyers were successful in their first legal skirmish were:

1. New York State was denied the right to be party to the proceeding in court.
2. Counsel for the State failed to have Thaw arraigned before a magistrate and the commitment on which he is held quashed. This would have released him to the immigration officers.
2. Judge Globensky granted the plea of Thaw's counsel for a discontinuance of the writ of hebeas corpus which might have brought about his release today. This remedied a strategic blunder made last week by Thaw's attorneys, who apparently did not realize then that in seeking their client's release they were playing into the opposition's hands.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 27.—Harry K. Thaw won three victories over the New York State authorities today, and was locked tonight in the Sherbrooke jail, immune for the time being from the Dominion immigration authorities, after havng received an ovation from the towns people of Sherbrooke that would have done honor to a prince of royal blood.

So riotous was the scene in the Superior court, when at the morning session, Judge Arthur Globensky refused to allow counsel representing New York state to be party to the proceedings, that the court subsequently warned spectators that repetition of the cheering, chair-climbing, handkerchief-waving and general hysteria would mean jail sentences for the demonstrants.

Speaking from the bench at the afternoon session, Judge Globensky said that never in his experience as a member of the bar and of the bench had he been a witness to "such disgraceful scenes." It was carried out in the presence of court attendants and four armed Dominion police who stood immobile while emotional women rush toward Stanford White's slayer crying: "Three cheers for Thaw! Three cheers for the British flag! We will give you justice, Harry."

Tonight with Thaw's term of confinement indeterminate and the key to the riddle still not found, there was a general exodus of the who rushed hither after the fugitive's sensational escape from Mattewan. William Travers Jerome, former prosecutor of Thaw, left tonight for Quebec, accompanied by Franklin Kennedy deputy attorney general of New York. Either tonight or tomorrow District Attorney E. A. MEXICO SILENT ON WILSON'S MESSAGE

Huerta Officials Declare They Have No Comment to Make.

TO PUBLISH ORIGINAL NOTES

Authorities Say United States's Present Attitude Will Cause No Change in Mexico's Stand—Huerta Hopeful.

Mexico City, Aug. 27.—Without comment, Fredico Gamboa, the minister of Foreign Affairs, presented to the standing committee of the Mexican Congress tonight all the facts in the controversy between Mexico and the United States.

The Congressmen comprising the committee received the facts without comment other than that indulged in as individuals after adjourning. Unless there are new developments it is improbable that discussion, even of a private character, will continue long.

All the government cared to say regarding the situation was published tonight in the official Diario, a paper issued by the government for dissemination of official news.

"Since the strained relations existing between Mexico and the United States began," said Senor Gamboa in this article, "the ad interim government with a full understanding of the obligations and responsibilities, purposed with the greatest possible spirit of conciliation to preserve National decorum, which was in great danger of suffering a serious and transcendental affront had another line of conduct been adopted from that which was taken under the present circumstances."

"The strictly secret character of the negotiations which were still under way decided the government upon withholding until today the publication of the whole of the correspondence exchanged between the chancellories.

"In view of the fact that the President of the United States already has submitted the case to Congress, the constitutional ad interim government believes it to be its duty through the official organ to inform all the inhabitants of the Republic of the state of these delicate negotiations. Purposely not a single comment is added, since the government believes that the documents are eloquent enough in themselves. It confines itself to hoping for approval of its acts by the people whose destinies it temporarily guides and recommending the greatest calm and discretion in order that the decorums and solemn course of the aforementioned negotiations may not be hindered.

"Many Mexicans believe that the only bar to the acceptance of the propositions in the second note was in the insistence that President Huerta eliminate himself from the electoral contest. Their point is that this was impossible for him to do, since he is a Mexican citizen. If there should be further negotiations, it is practically certain that they cannot be satisfactorily concluded if this demand of the United States be insisted upon."

Mexico City, Aug. 27.—The Mexican government is silent on the message which the President of the United States read before Congress today outlining the situation in this republic, and the attitude of the United States Government. The minister of foreign affairs Frederico Gamboa, was advised by private message of the delivery and contents of the message. He declared this evening that the official of the Mexican government had no comment to make.

"We are authorizing," said the minister, "the publication of the original notes exchanged, which I understand are contained in President Wilson's messages and the further publication of the two supplementary notes, the latest of which was sent to Mr. Lind at Vera Cruz last night. They speak for themselves. They are the only comment we have to make."

It was not until tonight that any great number of the Mexican people were aware of the character of President Wilson's message. None of the afternoon papers published any of it, the only account of the proceedings in the American Congress reaching the city through private telegrams and messages to the government.

Government officials refrained from comment, reserving their expressions until after consultation. In no quarter did the message arouse great excitement as the government agents as well as press dispatches had forward-

SENATE LEADERS HAVE BITTER TILT

LaFollette Predicts Retirement of Republican Gallinger.

DISCUSS VOTE ON INCOME TAX

Comment on Defeat of Bristow Amendments Proposing Tax of 10 Per Cent on Incomes of $100,000.

Washington, Aug. 27.—In a verbal tilt marked by intonse bitterness on both sides, Senator LaFollette today predicted the retirement of Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, the Republican leader, and others of "his typo" because of their alleged failure to adjust themselves to changing industrial conditions.

The colloquy followed Senator LaFollette's declaration that Republican Senators who were voting against a heavier income tax on big incomes included many who had "always opposed the establishment of any income tax."

He was commenting upon the defeat of the Bristow amendment, proposing a tax running up to 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 and against which 13 Republicans, and the solid Democratic side had voted.

"I am sorry there is a division on the Republican side," said Senator LaFollette. "There is a new day coming in this country. If the Republican party will not see it, then its place will be taken by some party that will." He recalled that he had predicted some "vacant seats" six or seven years ago, and the prediction had been fulfilled.

"It is true that some Senators have disappeared from this cide," retorted Senator Gallinger, "and it is equally true that the Republican party has been put out of power by some men who sympathize with the Senator from Wisconsin in his extreme views."

"The Republican party has been put out of power by the people of this country, who sympathize with the views which I am now expressing," cried Senator LaFollette, shaking his hand, "and they will put more men out of the Senate of the type of the Senator from New Hampshire before we get through with the disposition of these issues."

The defeat of the Bristow amendment by a vote of 46 to 16, came at the end of a short debate during which many Republicans had urged a heavier tax on the larger incomes of the country. The Democrats voted solidly against the change, as they had done in the case of the Borah amendment yesterday, and were joined by the following Republicans:

Senators Bradley, Brandegee, Catron, Gallinger, Lodge, McLean, Oliver, Penrose, Root, Smoot, Townsend and Weeks.

Senator LaFollette proposed another amendment as soon as this was defeated, changing the basis of tax.

It proposed an increase of one-half of one per cent on each $10,000 from $50,000 to $100,000; and a jump from 7 per cent to 10 per cent for all incomes above $100,000.

Senator Williams, who directed the progress of the tariff bill for the Democrats, again declared that the framers of the bill had considered all phases of the subject, and had dismissed the idea of a heavier tax, in favor of the policy of starting the new form of taxation upon a "moderate basis."

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, today introduced his proposed amendment to the tariff bill, to levy a graduated tax upon corporations, for curbing monopolies and breaking up trusts. This represents a plan that has many supporters in both parties, and a strong effort will be made to have it incorporated in the tariff bill. It would provide a tax of 5 per cent or five times the normal corporation tax, on the income of any concession that produces or sells from one-quarter to one-third of the total amount of any given line of production; 10 per cent on corporations producing or selling from one-third to one-half of the total; and 20 per cent on corporations producing or selling over one-half of the total.

This penalty tax would not apply to concerns whose product is valued at less than $10,000,000 per year; nor to concerns having a total capital of less than $50,000,000.

SPAT IN EDITOR'S FACE.

Norfolk Judge Charged With Assault and Battery as Result.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 27.—Judge Joseph T. Lawless, of the circuit court of Norfolk county, was late today served with a warrant charging assault and battery on C. R. Kelley, editor of the Norfolk News. The judge accompanied to police headquarters by three members of the bar, was recognized in the sum of $50 for his appearance tomorrow on personal bond.

The warrant against the judge was the outcome of his alleged expectorating in the face of Editor Kelley, following newspaper articles in which the name of the judge was used. It is also charged that the judge struck Mr. Kelley, who is a son of the late Judge Anthony M. Kelley, formerly of the International court at Cairo, Egypt.

ASSEMBLY RECOGNIZES GLYNN

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn was formally recognized as acting Governor by the Assembly early this morning after a bitter debate. The vote of such recognition stood 48 for, to 29 against.

British Chancellor

London, Aug. 27.—Despite the frank disapproval of many influential figures in the government and on the part of the majority of London's prominent lawyers, Viscount Haldane, Lord High Chancellor of the British Empire, has sailed on the Lusitania for New York, en route to the American Bar Association meeting at Montreal.

In the eyes of the English barristers the journey of Viscount Haldane to America is looked upon as the sacriligeous breaking of a custom that has been carefully adhered to for centuries with few exceptions. The last Chancellor to break the custom was Lord Brougham, who held the honor under King William. He made a trip to Scotland, and was referred to as having disgraced himself and his position. The famous Cardinal Wolsey, of King Henry's reign, infringed on the custom when he went to Calais, and his rash act was made one of the chief indictments of his subsequent impeachment.

STATE DELEGATION PLEASED

Think Wilson Made Ten-Strike Yesterday in Mexican Message—Democratic Worrying Over Republicans in Offive.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—President Wilson's message upon Mexican crisis, delivered this afternoon as a personal address to a joint session of the House and Senate, won the legislators of all parties and factions to the support of the policy of non-intervention and non-interference which he laid down.

The circumstances of today differed from those attending the personal delivery of his message upon the tariff and currency. Demonstrations clearly spontaneous and sincere, occurred before and after the President read his address. These outbursts gave convincing evidence of enthusiastic and well nigh unanimous approval on the part of Congress. The message, too, represents a historical departure. It is the first time that the full details of a delicate international situation still in the diplomatic stage" have been publcly communicated to the entire Congress by the President in person. "It was a patriotic and statesmanlike address," said Senator Overman, in speaking of the message.

Major Steadman Delighted.

Major Charles M. Steadman, a member of the foreign relations committee which deals directly with the Mexican situation, said he was delighted with the tone of the President's address. In fact all members of the State delegation who talked of the subject at all seemed to think that Mr. Wilson's attitude in the Mexican crisis has made a ten-strike with members of Congress, regardless of party affiliations.

Long before the President arrived the galleries were filled to the doors. Mrs. Wilson and daughter were among the first to reach the reserved galleries. They were followed later by William Jennings Bryan, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels and his private secretary H. A. Banks. It is said the two latter North Carolinians rode to the capitol on an automobile truck, taxicabs not being available.

A. W. McLean, of Lumberton who is reported to be thinking of running for the Governorship in 1916 is here. Mr. McLean said the campaign was too far away to commit himself. He did not seem displeased, however, when told that many of his friends were boosting his candidacy.

Republicans Thorns in the Flesh.

Mr. McLean declared that the apparent inabilitiy of the Democrats to remove Republicans from office was worrying the Democrats of his section of the country. He said he supposed the administration was doing the best it could but that the people were very much dissatisfied and that it was hard to explain to the folks at home why Republicans should hold office when there was a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress.

NEW YORK CITY IN POLITICAL MUDDLE

GAYNOR FOR RE-ELECTION

New York, Aug. 27.—A muddled political situation which New York already faced was further complicated today with the authorized declaration from Mayor Gaynor at his Long Island farm that he would run for re-election on an independent ticket. The city thus finds itself with three Democrats as candidates for mayor. Tammany Hall last week designated Edward E. McCall, chairman of the public service commission, after refusing Mr. Gaynor a re-nomination while the fusionists selected John Prroy Mitchel, collector of the port.

Interest tonight centered on the question as to whom Mayor Gaynor's advisors will choose as his running mates. Should they, as many appear to expect, ask two of Mr. Mitchel's fusion colleagues—William A. Prendergast (Progressive) for city controller, and George McAneny, for president of the board of aldermen—to allow their names to be placed on the Gaynor ticket, it is said, to be certain the fusion leaders will demand that the two decline to accept. In possible anticipation of such a move by those in charge of the mayor's campaign, Theodore Roosevelt today cabled to Mr. Prendergast in Germany urging him to assure the fusionists that he would not run "on any ticket on which Mitchel or the other fusion candidates for city offices are left off."

Mr. Roosevelt cited the example of Mr. Mitchell in refusing the proffered Independence League designation on the ground that the league had not endorsed Mr. Prendergast and Mr. McAneny.

The Colonel said the fusion candidates should show that "this is a straight fight against Tammany and for principle, and not a scramble for office."

Charles S. Whitman will run for district attorney, his present office on the fusion Republican, Progressive, Independence League and Tammany tickets. He announced tonight his acceptance of the Tammany endorsement tendered him last night. Some of the fusion leaders had urged him not to accept.

William S. Bennet, a former Republican Congressman, announced tonight after conferring with Herman Ridder, Democrat, and others opposed to Mr. Mitchell, that a movement will be begun at once to have Mayor Gaynor's name placed by petition with Mr. Mitchell's on the Republican primary, let Republicans determine their choice. The Republican city committee recently endorsed Mr. Mitchell.

CONTINUE LOBBY PROBE.

Both Sides of the Capitol Continue Investigation of Charges.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Lobby investigating continued on both sides of the capital today. Before the House committee the defense for Representative McDermott, of Illinois, charged by M. M. Mulhall and I. H. McMichael with corruption and misconduct, had its inning, Attorneys for McDermott concluding the cross examination of McMichael and introducing a dozen witnesses to contradict testimony against their client.

Attorney Easby-Smith, for McDermott, took the stand himself and contradicted various statements of McMichael. J. P. Bird, general manager of the National Association of Manufacturers, testified concerning the presentation of a letter of introduction to him from Mulhall by McDermott and said the Congressman tried vainly to get him to arrange for credit for an aeroplane venture.

James A. Emery, Washington representative of the National Association of Manufacturers, virtually concluded his testimony before the Senate committee. He denied that his election was affiliated with the anti-boycott association or similar organizations.

He added on cross-examination that he had been mistaken when he testified recently that he had little to do with the employment of former Representative James E. Watson to do work for a tariff commission. Senator Reed read several letters written by Emery showing he took an active part in the negotiations which preceded Watson's employment. Emery said he had forgotten.

THROWN FROM HORSE.

Miss Jessie Wilson Injured in Accident While Horseback Riding.

Plainfield, N. H., Aug. 27.—Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, while riding near here late yesterday, was thrown from her horse and lay unconscious for more than half an hour on the roadside. She was found there by Dr. Charles W. Worthern, of White River Junction, who applied remedies and restored her to consciousness. Later Miss Wilson was taken to a home nearby, and the Cornish home of President Wilson was notified by telephone. Her injuries are not believed to be serious.

Miss Wilson's fiance, Francis B. Sayre, with whom she had started for a ride, had gone ahead of her and knew nothing of the accident until the riderless horse dashed past him.

BAR RACE TRACK GAMBLING.

Indiana Militia Encamped on Grounds at Mineral Spring.

Porter, Ind., Aug. 27.—Two companies of the Indiana National Guard arrived here at 5:30 this afternoon and immediately took charge of the Mineral Springs race track, where betting on horse races is said to have flourished since the opening of the meet last Thursday.

The troops were ordered out by Governor Ralston after he had received information that the track officials were permitting gambling and that the county authorities were ding little to stop it.

Today's racing card had been completed, and the largest crowd of the meet had disappeared before the troops.

W. F. Knott's, president of the racing association, was present, but made no attempt to defy executive interference. Mr. Knott said if the troops attempted to carry out Governor Ralston's orders to clear the racing course of everybody but track officials, horse owners and employes, the meet would end.

There probably will be no racing tomorrow, with the soldiers camping in the enclosure.

NIMOCKS-M'NEILL LIBEL SUIT.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C. Aug. 27.—Former Mayor James D. McNeill was placed on trial in the Superior Court here today under a criminal indictment for libel of State Senator Q. K. Nimocks during the campaign between the two for the Senatorial nomination in 1912.

The presentation of evidence of both the State and the defense was concluded today, and former Mayor V. C. Bullard, who is assisting Solicitor Sinclair, had spoken to the jury when court adjourned this afternoon. E. G. Davis for the defense, and Solicitor Sinclair will speak in the morning.

In addition to the newspaper article and creulars which formed the basis of action, the State presented a number of well known business men of Fayetteville and Raeford, who testified to the good character of Mr. Nimocks among whom were Mayor John Underwood, Dr. H. N. Lilly, president of the Fourth National Bank; Major A. A. McKeithan, clerk of the court; ex-Sheriff W. H. Marsh, H. K. Horne, W. S. Cook, H. L. Cook, A. E. Martin of Fayetteville, and J. W. Moore, cashier of the Bank of Raeford.

A. J. Cook, who was a partner in an insurance business with Mr. Nimocks several years ago, being introduced by the defense, told of alleged unfair treatment which he said he received from his partner following an illness which confined him to a hospital. He said that Mr. Nimocks offered to make a settlement, offered terms which were accepted. Mr. Cook's brothers, W. S. and H. B. Cook, testified they went over their brother's books and that the settlement made did justice to the later.

CALLAHAN PLEASES "KOMMY"

President Comiskey, of White Sox, Says Jim Callahan is Suiting Him Exactly in Conduct of Chicago Team.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—President Chas. A. Comiskey, of the White Sox, agrees that a man never is too old to learn something. Some of the information he has acquired today was contained in a detailed story in the Boston Globe, "Based on Authentic Information from Chicago" that Hal Chase and Harry Lord have gone after Jimmy Callahan's job as manager, because Comiskey is dissatisfied with the Zeider-Chase trade as engineered by Callahan.

"How about this scoop from Boston?" he was asked.

"There is absolutely nothing in it," he replied, emphatically. "Taking up the Zeider-Chase deal first, you can say for me that I am satisfied with every detail of that famous swap.

"There are no cnques on the White Sox team. Nobody is after Callahan's job that I know of. And if anybody's after it they had better consult me for I am liable to figure prominently in the negotiations.

"I want to say that there is one thing and only one thing wrong with the White Sox. They are not hitting. That sums it up—tells the whole story. Every ball team has a slump of some kind now and then. Ours is in the batting. To take this one fact and build thereon an elaborate structure of rumors that we are torn by internal dissension, are dissatisfied with one another's business operations, and sore at one another on the field is unfair to us. Give us time. That's all we want.

"As for Callahan, he has done and is doing everything possible to give the South Side a winning ball team. To say that he is about to be dismissed as manager is absurd. To say I am sore over the Chase deal is equally ridiculous. As a matter of fact, I gave Jimmy authority to make any swap he wanted to for Chase, leaving the details to him."

TAKE PRISONER FROM OFFICER.

Six Blacks Overpower Constable and Free Negro Prisoner.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 27.—Last night Constable J. E. Shugart arrested a negro named Bitting for the alleged theft of a coat near Huntsville, Yadkin county, and on the way to the jail with his prisoner was overpowered by six blacks who took Bitting from the officer. Sheriff Poindexter was notified of the occurrence and arriving on the scene with a posse, attempted to arrest the negroes who had attacked the officer and liberated the prisoner, but was met with armed resistance. A pitched battle ensued and a negro named Bitting was killed outright, though it is not known whether he is the man previously arrested or not. Another negro was badly wounded, but the officers escaped unhurt. Sheriff Poindexter succeeded in capturing three of the leaders and landed them safely in the Yadkin village jail this morning.

Watch Detroit Club In the 1914 Race, Says Griff

Now that said Mr. C. Griffith is a publicity seeking pest, or anything like that, but ideas just naturally gravitate to him. He was the person who saved money for other American league managers and club owners by refusing to pay fabulous sums for sensational minor leaguers, and he modeled the Nationals into a pennant contender in a spring's training trip.

Now, with the close of the major league seaso nearly two months distant and the winner of the pennant not yet settled—that is to say, settled beyond argument—Griffith comes out with the statement that Washington, Philadelphia and Detroit look like the active contenders for the 1914 pennant.

Griffith's disposition would not permit that he count the Nationals out of the running, the tenants of his head would not allow him to place the Athletics in the second division, and his baseball sense lead him to believe that Jennings will have a dangerous aggregation of players next season.

"The Detroit team has shown a vast amount of improvement in the past two or three months" said Clarke this morning. "In the spring it was a hopeleess aggregation of players. But Jennings has whipped the men into line and he will give us a fight next year. He has two fine young pitchers in Hall and Dauss. Dauss is one of the best looking young pitchers to come into the American league in years. Dubus is also a fine pitcher, although he seems to have had an off year. Veach is a slugging outfielder, and the Detroit infield, as it stands, is a fine one.

Griffith says that Coveleskie, the big left-hander, purchased from the Chattanooga club, has a lot of natural agility, and that it is quite possible that Detroit has picked up a star performer.

Coveleskie was with Griffith in Cincinnati, but was shunted on to the minors. He lacked experience.

The Washington players were considerably surprised a few days ago to "learn that George McBride would succeed Bill Carrigan as manager of the Boston Red Sox." And, incidentally, McBride was more surprised than any.

"Such a story is so idle that it's silly," declared McBride last night. "I do not know where it originated and I can only say that the subject has never been broached to me. In the first place I do not care for the position, and second I would not take it if it was offered to me.

"President McAleer, of the Boston club is a good friend—that's all."

"Boston would have to pay a pretty price to get McBride," declared Grifth. "George is one of the most valuable players in the major league. It is my opinion that the yarn was manufactured."

Jackson Losing Chance For Auto

Joe Jackson will have to be up and doing if he is to get serious consideration from the Chalmers automobile trophy commission. Jax was in high favor with several members of the commission up to this week, but since he helped Washington to two victories by his failure to catch Milon's short fly on Monday and Johnson's foul on Tuesday and his weird exhibition against Boston Friday, his stock has dropped several points.

Jackson never played poorer ball than on Friday. First of all, he muffed Hooper's easy fly in the fourth. In the fifth, when Carrigan drove a long single to right, Joe grabbed the ball on the first bound and essayed a quick throw to Johnston at first.

Jackson has thrown out one base runner on a clean drive to right field this season and keeps right on throwing to first, although he has made several bad throws. Friday was one of his bad throw days. The ball caught in his finger nails or something, and instead of traveling toward first base, shot off toward the first base pavilion. Carrigan reached second on the throw and was in position to score when Leibold grievously misjudged an easy fly back of second by Bedient, a little pop that any seven-year-old youngster should have caught, and the Red Sox scored their first run.—Cleveland News.

Devlin Goes; Is Too Slow

Boston, Aug. 27.—The passing of another veteran player from major league baseball was recorded today when President James Gaffney, of the Boston National League club, announced that Arthur Devlin, third baseman had been released to Rochester of the International League.

Devlin was one of the old New York National league stars whose work helped the Giants win several league championships and one world's championship—that of 1905. Since he came to the local National club in the Spring of 1912 his fielding has been up to his former average, but in batting and base running he fell off to such an extent this season that he has been used only as a substitute.

Devlin's last game in the big league had something of the drammatic about it. Coming to the bat as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning against Pittsburg he drove in the run which tied the score for Boston with a well placed hit to right field. He did not know at that time that he was to be released after the game.

SMALL POX IN CAMP.

New Prisoner Breaks Out Shortly After Arrival on Lenoir Gang.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. S., Aug. 27.—Consternation was caused in a county convict camp near here yesterday when a prisoner developed a case of smallpox. The man was taken to the camp only a few hours before, and when removed from the jail he was noticed to bear several tiny eruptions upon his face and hands. Little heed was paid to this, however, and when about nightfall a guard went to lock him in a portable road cell the prisoner's face was covered with the outbreak. He was brought back to the jail here and now is confined in a close cell under treatment of the county physician.

A campaign has been commenced in Jones county for better roads. That county is now practically without improved roadways of any kind, and business men and farmers have tsarted a fund by private contributions to build a demonstration strip into Trenton, the county seat. A meeting held in Trenton developed much interest in highway improvement, and a committee comprising public officials, professional and business men and planters was appointed to canvass for donations. A strip of one mile in length will be built for a start and sand and clay will be the materials used. It is confidently believed that the county will raise money by bonds for better roads within a few months and a connection with the central highway at a point between New Bern and Kinston is hoped for. The good roads spirit in the section surrounding Kinston is now manifest as never before. Lenoir conty is investing $37,500 in improved highways. Greene has voted a substantial sum for the work, and the people in Duplin and Onslow are enthusiastic.

When William, the four-year-old son of W. W. Gregg, of East Kinston, was seized with a violent convulsion late yesterday, his parents immediately placed the blame upon a broken goblet from which he had been drinking water. They thought the boy had swallowed particles of glass. His case developed all the symptoms of poisoning, however, and presented a baffling problem for the physicians since it could not be determined from what source he had been poisoned. Heroic efforts by the doctors saved his life.

CAMINETTI CASE PROGRESSING.

Sensation Which Characterized Diggs Trial Lacking.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—The trial of F. Drew Caminetti, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act, proceeded today before the jury that was selected before the morning session ended. The inteerst and tension that characterized the trial of Maury I. Diggs, companion of Caminetti, who was convicted a week ago, were lacking and counsel on both sides seemed anxious to hurry the case to a conclusion.

Lola Norris, the Sacramento girl, is accused of enticing with Marsha Warrington, her chum, to Reno, Nev., will take the stand tomorrow, it is expected. Miss Warrington will follow her on the stand.

Four witnesses testified today. They were R. G. Simon, the ticket agent at Sacramento; M. L. Jones, conductor of the train upon which Caminetti and his companions rode to Reno on the morning of March 10th; C. H. Walbourne, the Pullman conductor who sold Diggs the drawing room ticket for the party of four, and S. A. Dedrick, negro porter, who waited on the party and helped them on and off the train.

New York, Aug. 27.—The reported activity of Tammany Hall in the impeachment proceedings against Governor Sulzer was made a matter of inquiry today by District Attorney Whitman. Former Judge Lynn J. Arnold, of Albany, a friend of Mr. Sulzer, conferred with Mr. Whitman, who examined two "investigators" called in by Judge Arnold.

Their identity was not disclosed, nor would Mr. Whitman say whether their statements were of value, nor discuss the possible scope of the inquiry. It was stated that the names of several Tammany Hall men were mentioned, and that Mr. Whitman would consult further with Judge Arnold.

CHARLOTTE ASKED ARMED AID

Mayor Called Governor on Long Distance for Military Companies After Lynching—Assessing Corporation Tax.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. S. Aug. 27.—The fact was kept secret here yesterday but it developed today that there was an appeal yesterday morning received here by Secretary J. P. Kerr in the executive office of Governor Craig, for the military companies of Charlotte to be placed at the disposal of the local authorities to aid in preventing any outbreak there on the part of negroes in resentment of the lynching of the negro, Joe McNeeley for seriously wounding Policeman Wilson.

Reports of raids on a hardware store for arms alarmed the local authorities and the mayor of Charlotte called the Governor's office by long distance telephone, asking for the militia to be placed at the disposal of the mayor. Col. Kerr had him call Governor Craig, at Asheville and the order was given by the Governor from Asheville. But happily there has been no occasion for any appeal to the military companies.

Assessing Corporation Tax.

The North Carolina Corporation Commission has about completed the work of going through the reports of all corporations in the State and assessing the taxes against these on capital stock and intangible values. For weeks past officers of numerous corporations have been coming to Raleigh to be heard in pleas for modifications of the assessments the commission has made. It will take some days yet to complete these hearings and finally settle the assessments against the various corporations. It It will be well into September, probably around September 10th before anything like a definite increased revenue for the State will be available. However it is understood that the commission has put into practice much of the preaching it has been making to the tax assessing autohirities in the various counties for actual value assessments and that very considerable increases have been made and are being adhered to in spite of the strenuous kicks that the officials of some of the corporations are putting up against the assessments as excessive.

Farmers Out Early.

The North Carolina Farmers convention took an early start for the second day of the convention, being out by five o'clock taking a look at the A. & M. College barns and farm under the direction of members of the faculty. They benefitted by a demonstration of judging mules by Prof. McNutt, of the college, and of draft horses by Mr. Salisbury, of the faculty, and of hogs by D. T. Gray, of the experiment station. At 9:30 there was a lecture by W. F. Ward, of the United States Department of Agriculture, on "Silage for Beef Cattle." Alvin J. Reed, of the Department talked of "Frountable Dairy Herds." And R. S. Curtis, of the experiment station, discussed "Southern Markets for Beef, Cattle and Sheep." At noon there was a demonstration of methods of injection of serum for hog cholera also a demonstration of recognition of tuberculosis in cattle. Tonight there were addresses by Hon. H. A. Page, of Moore county, and by Hon. A. F. Lever, chairman of the committee on agriculture, of the National House of Representatives.

A novel suit has been brought here against the Seaboard Air Line in which W. F. Castleberry, a farmer near Apex, demands $10,000 damages because of afflictions brought on himself and family through mosquitoes generated by defective drainage under tracks by the Seaboard at his farm. He alleges great suffering through the onslaught of the mosquitoes and malarial fever and big doctor bills, these and mental anguish and some damage to lands and crops rounding up the $10,000 damages demanded.

Want $2,500 For Killing Dog.

Argument of Beasley vs. Bynum, from Edenton, in the Supreme Court today stirred considerable interest in an unusual case. The plaintiffs Mr. and Mrs. V. Beasley, demand $2 500 damages of O. C. Bynum for the shooting of a pet dog of Mrs. Beasley. The dog had snapped at a little son of Bynum's a few days before and Bynum, went with his gun to the Beasley home and shot the dog while it was tied in the yard, and without saying a word to anyone. Mrs. Beasley has a heart trouble and the sudden shooting of the dog is alleged to have been dangerous and damaging shock for her. The trial below was won by the defendant.

BLOW FOR SUFFRAGETTES.

Woman Suffrage Movement in New Jersey Delayed on Technicality.

Trenton, N. J., August 27.—Woman suffrage in New Jersey today received a set back at least one year through an opinion by Assistant Attorney General Gaskill, that the failure to properly advertise the proposed change in the State's constitution renders impossible the ratification of suffrage by the legislature this winter.

The advertising of the Woman Seffrage amendment should have been begun August 4th. For some reason the advertising was not so begun, and assistant Attorney General Gaskill holds that it is now too late to begin the advertising.

PLEA FOR REFORMS.

In Educational Institutions Toward Sex Hygiene.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Scientists and educators of world-wide fame at the Fourth International Congress on School Hygiene, in special session today, agreed with practical unanimity that the time had come when the attitude of the world's educational institutions toward sex hygiene shall be revolutionized.

They saw in the silence of the past on the subject a growing and real menace to the future of the race that must be combatted by a system of education without exaggeration or morbid suggestion.

Public opinion, they maintained, already has reached the point where this revolution is demanded. Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president of the congress; Rev. Richard J. Tierney S. J., of Woodstock College, Md., and other prominent delegates, discussed the subject at a symposium attended by the entire congress this afternoon.

"A remarkable change in public opinion has taken place in regard to sex hygiene," Dr. Eliot said.

"The most important question is, what force can now be put in play against the formidable evils which gravely threaten the very life of the race? No one force or agency can be completely relied upon."

"This attack," he said, "must be made against the three principal causes of the present evil conditions:

"First, lust in men; second, lack of moral principle in certain classes of women; third, depravity of those who make a commerce of these two."

Other arguments of Dr. Eliot were:

"Commercialized vice should be attacked in all its forms by all the powers of the law."

"The ancient policies of toleration and licensed segregation and regulation must be uprooted. Regualtion is a confessed failure. The laws against undesirable marriages need to be revived."

Other speakers before the congress today were Pallander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education on "Teaching the Morality of Sex Relation."

Clinton P. McCord, of Albany; Dr. S. Adolphus Knopf and Dr. J. E. W. Wallin.

IMPROVE RURAL CONDITIONS.

Resolution Advocating Changes Adopted at Meeting.

Kansas City, Aug. 27.—Resolutions providing for changes in the conditions of rural life in this country which it was stated would decrease the burdens and increase the opportunities of the farmer and his family, were adopted today at the annual meeting of the committee of agriculture development and education of the American Bankers' Association.

Vocational training in the public schools; plans to make the marketing of farm products easier, and more profitable, and Federal aid to make farm demonstration work more general throughout the country, were among the things urged.

B. F. Harris, a banker and farmer of Champaign, Ill., was elected president. He said the next meeting place probably would be Chicago, although that will be decided later by the executive committee.

READING BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

That and Sunday Laws Vigorously Opposed by Seventh Day Adventists—Yadkin Valley Dissolution Suit—News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 27.—A number of resolutions setting forth principles of religious liberty were adopted by the Seventh Day Adventists of North Carolina, in annual session here yesterday, especially vigorous being those opposing Sabbath observance laws and the proposed amendment to constitution, which says the reading of Bible in public schools shall not be prohibited.

The Adventists observe Saturday for their Sabbath, hence the opposition to laws as to Sabbath observance. Evangelist Carlyle B. Haynes, of Atlanta, one of the lecturers on "American Religious Liberty," vigorously opposed the proposed constitutional amendment in a ringing speech. He said the Jews and many other sects were taxed for the support of the schools, and they would not desire the Protestant Bible read to their children. Yet if the amendment is passed and laws passed requiring the Bible read, they would be taxed to support a religious institution opposed to their religion. He said the introduction of Bible reading into schools in some places would lead to interminable controversy.

The Adventists had the usual program of exercises and services today. The convention will continue until Sunday night.

C. F. & Y. V. Dissolution Suit.

It is said here that Hon. A. L. Brooks, ex-solicitor of this judicial district, hts been retained by the Corporation Commission to assist in the investigation of the sale of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad to the Southern and the Atlantic Coast Line railroads several years ago. It is hoped to have this sale declared void, as a violation of the Sherman law. A hearing is expected soon in Raleigh. Mr. Brooks is one of the State's ablest attorneys.

Henry G. Easley, president of the North Carolina Association of the Blind, is in the city arranging for the entertainment of the annual convention of the association here next week.

The first meeting will be held in the Smith Memorial building Tuesday evening, with an address of welcome by Mayor Thomas J. Murphy, and response by one of the members. It is expected that there will be a large attendance. There will be concerts by the White Oak band on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and other musical features will be arranged by President Easley, who is a native of Greensboro, and himself a noted musician. It is a custom of the association to have all sessions open to the public, and an invitation has been extended the public to attend all sessions. The program is a very attractive one.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

President Wilson hasn't called anybody a liar, but he has a way of having pernicious individuals called down.

By the way, who remembers the names, troubles and offenses of ex-President Taft's unofficial family?

Says a physiologist: "A man with long legs gets credit for having brains." A man who is habitually short can't get credit for a five cent cigar.

To former Mayor Joseph D. Smith, and to former Councilmen M. G. Tiencken, B. C. Moore and W. E. Perdew, Greetings! And from the serene depths of private life, 'ow does things look to you, anyway?

"There is no joy but calm," the Lotus Eaters sang, and of a truth one is constrained to agree with them when he contemplates the battle of pros and cons that sometimes disturbs the circumambient.

This thing of going across the State line and getting into trouble with Uncle Sam will make men a little more cautious. It is easy enough to get into your Uncle's jurisdiction but it is not so easy to get out.

If prospects, hopes and dreams get into that new currency law, we see no reason why overdue newspaper subscription accounts should not be inserted as collateral to be taken in times of financial stress.

Nebuchadnezzar is principally known to fame as the man who ate grass. He acted like a Bull Moose whether he "felt like" one or not. Verily, it is better for a man to eat grass than to speak words that he may have to eat sooner or later.

Colaborate, co-operate. The iconoclast makes trouble and tears down. If he has a system or method to introduce, he can accomplish something by having them adopted and co-operating in their execution. Criticism exposes but it is ineffectual if it offers no remedy.

The Charlotte News is informed that we have received as a gift from Capt. Thos. D. Meares, of this city, an old stock cut of George Washington. We hand out this advance information to The News, because some time or other we may take a notion to run it over Captain Meares' name, and we don't want The News to be calling us down.

The wife of the "Speed Devil", otherwise known as Barney Oldfield, who has made a pile of money in automobile races, is said to be a fatalist. She can't be made to believe that any harm can ever come to the reckless racer. Some mean people possibly may suspect that it is mainly because Barney continues to bring home a good wad on Saturday night.

Says the Columbia State: "A young man of Chicago has been arrested and acquitted of the charge of having tried to flirt with a policewoman." Probably a glimpse of her face raised a strong reasonable doubt in the minds of the jury. If Chicago's policewomen look like their pictures in the newspapers, most any young fellow ought to be able to prove an alibi.

In an interview in Chicago on Monday, Col. Roosevelt made a five-minute speech at the Progressive Club. Referring to the talk of merging the Republican and the Progressive parties, he asserted that "the only possibility of such a plan would be for the Republicans to adopt every principle of the Progressive party." That is his individual view. Most of the Progressives will go back to the Republican party without asking for terms or demanding any.

At this distance from Atlanta, it looks as if Leo Frank has been convicted of murder for having an ordinarily bad character. There was no direct evidence that he was the slayer of Mary Phagan, but somebody killed her and the man who couldn't prove a good character at the most critical hour of his life, was powerless to defend himself from circumstances that helped to fasten suspicion upon him. The hour may come to any man when a good character would help his lawyers to save him from the clutches of the law.

CHARLOTTE'S FIRST LYNCHING.

The State knows that the first stain on the long and honorable record of Charlotte and Mecklenburg county has been put there by hoodlums—"the riff-raff", as the Observer says, "that habitually hangs around cafes and the red-light district at late hours of the night." Mecklenburg and Charlotte, names that stand for a lofty class of citizenship, had nothing to do with the lynching. With her last lynching years behind, North Carolina shares with Mecklenburg and Charlotte the disgrace and humiliation that have come to them, but the State is proud that this was the first such crime against law and order and civilization that has ever occurred in Mecklenburg, and knows that the scum of a city and not its respectable people perpetrated the monstrous crime which transcends mere murder. The killing of the negro was bad enough, but the crime of the mob, the crime of all mobs, is not only the taking of a criminal's life, but the outrage against society and orderly government that is committed whenever men, good or bad, take the law of the land into their own hands.

The officials are not to escape a share of the blame. The Observer does not take kindly to the prompt surrender of the two policemen on guard. The authorities had warning that a lynching was on foot, and the negro could have been removed to the county jail and strongly guarded. Incensed by the shooting of one of its number, there is a hint that the police force of the city was not adverse to summary vengeance.

It is hoped that somebody in that mob will be located and punished and if the convictions should occur before Judge Shaw the lesson he will teach is more than likely to sink deep into the minds of all men who have anywhere in their systems the germ of mobism.

The fact that the lynching was done by the white riff-raff of the city stresses the necessity of keeping a city clean of that class of undesirables. Every considerable town has them. They are vagrants well within the meaning of the statute against vagrancy. They hang around cafes and in the disreputable places of the community, living without work. A chance comes like that in Charlotte, and their empty, criminal lives welcome it. The intelligence, the virtue, the honor of the community are nothing to them, and they perpetrate a hideous crime that disgraces the community and the State without hesitation, relying on perjury if they are caught, and on the sympathy of those who would not think of taking a hand in a lynching yet who approve of it, to keep from being caught. A strict enforcement against vagrancy would be insurance against such an occurrence as Charlotte has suffered.

SCOURGE OF THE MOUNTAINS.

Dispatches recently told of an outbreak of the fearsome "milk sick", a scourge of the mountain section, in Avery county, and stated that the government had been asked to send an expert there to investigate the cause. "Milk sick" is the local name for an illness said to be nearly always fatal that is due to poison communicated through the milk and butter of cows that have taken up a poison, either mineral or vegetable, on the mountain ranges. The mountain people have never discovered where the stuff comes from or what causes it. One man will tell you that it is a mineral that the cattle lick up in bare, rocky places, when salt hungry. Another will contend that it is a gas which poisons vegetation eaten by the cattle. Still another idea is that it is due to a fungus growth in damp, shaded places where the sun never strikes. A milk cow is not affected, but it is said that a calf will die. A person who is affected, if he lives through it, often will wish that he had died, it is said, for he never is well. The home remedy, and the only one used, is whiskey or brandy, and honey. He who thinks he wouldn't mind a case of "milk sick" if he could be so treated is informed that there is none of the alleged pleasant effects of intoxication. A "milk sick" man will absorb gallons of spirits without intoxication, so virile is the poison. If spirits and plenty of it is at hand immediately, there is a chance for the poisoned patient; otherwise not. Whole mountain communities are sometimes laid low by the scourge, for on the ranges the cattle of them all roam free and at will. Suspected spots are often fenced in, to keep the milk cows from the poisoned ground. If the government expert can discover the secret of "milk sick", he will have conferred a great boon on the people of the hills.

NOTHING IN IT FOR SHOOTERS.

The revolver and the shotgun are too often appealed to when people have troubles. Shooting irons are arbiters that surely increase the troubles of men and pile up expense on top of their calamity.

Harry Thaw knows what it is to have gotten an idea into his head that shooting a man in revenge would mend his troubles the least bit. He barely missed the electric chair, must serve an indefinite time in an isolated lunatic asylum, and his way of righting his wrongs with a pistol has cost the Thaw family about $1,250,000. After all, the one whom he undertook to vindicate wishes he had been electrocuted and gotten out of her way.

Thaw is not a lunatic. He may really not be insane, but his actions indicate that he has been all sorts of a fool, capable of harboring malice sufficient to impel him to shoot and kill—all to no purpose. It is malice that overrules a man's reason when he gets it into his head that a gun can either wipe out a stain, vindicate a wrong or gratify passion. A man may escape execution or punishment at the hands of the law. He may keep himself out of a madhouse. He may flee to the furtherest ends of the earth. Nowhere can he wash his hands of blood. Remorse dogs him by day and haunts him by night.

The assassin, the murderer, the slayer—those who take life under any pretext—may get away from the law, but they can never, nevermore, get away from themselves.

ANOTHER STEAMER FOR COLUMBIA.

Steamboat service on the Santee and Congaree from Georgetown to Columbia seems to have grown in importance. Recently a second steamboat had to be put on. Now a third boat has been purchased in Georgia waters and it will give Columbia water transportation by a fleet of three river steamers.

The Jacksonville Times Union, of Monday, says, Ruth No. 2, admittedly the fastest sternwheeler that has ever been in that port, has arrived there en route to Georgetown. She came from Bainbridge, Ga., on the Chattahoochee river, and had traveled 1,400 miles up to the time she reached Jacksonville by the inside route by way of Apalachicola. She still had 500 miles ahead of her to reach Georgetown so she can get ready for her run to Columbia.

Ruth No. 2 has a speed of 12 knots an hour, which in language understood by landlubbers, is 15 miles. She is equipped for passenger as well as freight service and will accomodate 60 passengers.

Evidently Columbia is going to avail herself of water competition. With three steamboats meeting ocean transportation at Georgetown, the South Carolina capital is destined to become an important interior distributing point.

THE BALKAN HORROR.

It is hard to get at the facts concerning barbarous and inhuman conduct on the part of the people engaged in the wars that have been raging in the Balkans but if eve nthe least of the stories is believer we have before us an orgy of bloodshed that would pu Sitting Bull and all his compeeds to shame. There is strong evidnce that Bulgaria has been the chief offender in this wanton and savage destruction of human life. A French writer in Constantinople says that the Bulgarians have made of Thrace "a desert surpassing in abomination everything I had been told and all that I had imagined." He protests against handing Adrianople back to them and says that when Russia wakes up to the monstrous wrongs that Bulgaria has committed, she will "realize that to take up the cause of this small, deceitful and ferocious people, this opprobium o fthe great Slav family, would be to soil their history with an indelible stain." American sympathy has been with the allies all the time, but if what is printed is to be accepted, there is small choice between the Bulgarians and the Turks—they have out-turked the Turks.

Smile! It is good for your health. If you frown, you get appendicitis, and things. That's what the surgeons of Johns Hopkins have to say about, it, and they ought to know. "Limber up the muscles of your face into a grin," they say, "and you'll never even scrape a speaking acquaintance with the high-priced surgeon." A frozen, frowning face, with a grouch behind it and pessimism around it, they declare, causes internal complaints, and they say that appendicitis can be traced directly to worry and general grouchiness. That laughter is a good tonic is known of old.

The seaside grows in popular favor every season. The variety of recreation, sport, pleasure and entertainment makes it so, but it is as a health resort that the seashore is the premier of them all. Those who resort to ocean wave get tan and brawn and red blood. The salt breezes lull the sleepers, restful night "knit up the ravelled sleeve of care" of those who may be tired, but as to the young and gay, they have it all their own way. That is the reason old and young are laying greater store by the seasons at Wrightsville Beach. All get theirs down by the sea.

Says the Chattanooga Times: "The increase of the powers of the Railroad Commission will not be one of the items in the Governor's call for an extra session." The commissions of the States are made more important than ever by recent decisions of the Inter-State Commerce Commission and the Supreme Court of the United States, but it is probable that in most cases the State commissions are without constitutional or legislative authority to exercise the power which looks to the regulation of intra-State freight rates and the supervision of corporations.

The South Carolina Commissioner of Agriculture states that he is just now holding up more damaged corn meal throughout his State than during the entire season put together, and that it comes from the grinding of the odds and ends of the Western corn crop. It is condemned and either destroyed or shipped back whence it came. If pellagra is caused by eating bread made of such meal, we have still another argument for raising our own breadstuffs.

Mulhall's revelations have gotten to be so commonplace they are rarely put next to reading matter here of late.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Queer about fish and fishermen, Georgetown, S. C., has just made its first shipment to a Northern market of Spanish mackerel, a choice and high-priced fish. She has discovered that the mackerel are there, right off the Georgetown bar. Only last year Georgetown discovered bluefish, yet the pursuit of this other very valuable catch has become an important industry whose permanence no one appears to doubt. Just recently, too, Charleston discovered that she possessed bluefish resources; and she may announce the discovery of Spanish mackerel any day. In their migrations fish sometimes visit a point regularly for long periods and then remain away. They might have been returning to Georgetown and Charleston after such an interval, but apparently both towns overlooked a mine of wealth beneath the water very much as many overlooked mines of wealth beneath the land.—Charlotte Observer.

Here are a State building and some banks in Raleigh tied up on account of two furniture workers' strikes; one out West and the other at Nashville, Tenn. These strikers, whom Raleigh does not know and of whom it has not until now heard, perhaps, are tieing things up in a most annoying way both as to the steel and wood furniture. Meanwhile, within less than a hundred miles of us, there are some of the greatest furniture factories in the country, untroubled by strikes, and these could have no doubt installed the furniture long ago. There is a lesson in all of this and one does not have to look far to find it. When the matter was spoken of to a man in another State, he replied that North Carolina had the timber and could make furniture, but won't make it. Evidently he has not been to High Point, Thomasville or Lexington! certainly not to High Point, a place where they do things on a great scale in this line.—Raleigh Times.

A band of hoodlums in the city of Charlotte last night disgraced not only their city and their county, but the whole State in which they live. No such instance of lawlessness has been seen anywhere in North Carolina for years as that displayed last night when a small body of men, lawless, cowardly and thirsting for blood, removed a wounded and helpless negro from a hospital bed and shot him in the street. Those so-called men had not even the excuse of outraged passion, because the crime which the negro committed was done several days ago and Policeman Wilson, whom he shot, is getting along nicely at the hospital. There was every assurance that if the negro lived he would be punished; if Mr. Wilson died the negro would have been electrocuted; if he recovered the negro would have been punished to the full extent of the law. The negro who was ruthlessly removed from the hospital was far less to be condemned than any man in the aggregation who aided in the outrage upon law and order and who placed a blot upon the State which will require years to efface. The negro had his reason dethroned by a deadly drug and he knew not what he did. The white men were in their right minds, so far as it may be said that they have right minds, and they not only committed a despicable, cowardly and inexcusable crime, but they disgraced and foully stained the city and State which protects them, guarantees them justice and affords them their opportunities. They disgraced and placed a blot upon their neighbors and friends and the whole people of a law-abiding and Godfearing city.—Charlotte Chronicle.

FARMERS ON EDUCATION

North Carolina Union Adopts Ringing Resolutions on School Reforms—Declares for More Farm Spirit. Alliance Property Disposal.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 27.—The North Carolina Farmers' Union held very important sessions today in connection with the annual convention in progress here, one of the most notable features being the report of the committee on education, which was adopted by the Union.

This report declares that the Union has won its fight for six months' minimum school terms and compulsory attendance, and that the next great forward work in education is that of making the country schools train for farm life, every farmer being urged to see that the boys and girls study the text books on agriculture. It is urged that every school, wherever possible introduce domestic science for the girls.

Text Books for Farm Life.

Demand is made that text books adapted for use in the country schools shall be adapted to farm life instead of being "saturated from cover to cover with the spirit of the city." And that especially never again shall country children be forced to study an arithmetic packed with problems on banking, insurance, English money, and latitude and longitude, but with adequate training in farm life problems, such as mixing fertilizers, calculating fertilizer values, compounding feeds, rations and such like. The report asks that each county superintendent of schools publish each year the number of pupils studying agriculture in each country school, and give annually a comparative statement showing how the county stands as compared with two, five or ten years before in local taxation, length of term, value of school property, enrollment, attendance, school libraries and other matters.

Insistence is made that the State Normal and Industrial College and other schools for training teachers shall give more attention to agriculture and domestic science and that every pupil receiving free tuition as a prospective teacher, shall be required to take these courses.

Train for Practical Living.

It is urged that the high schools aim rather at training for life rather than training for college, and there is denunciation in the report of the "ancient policy of having the colleges and universities dictate the courses in the high schools so that these are made to fit and serve the five per cent. who go to college, instead of the 95 per cent. who do not."

The report congratulates the A. & M. College on the establishment of a department of agricultural economics and marketing, and the University of North Carolina on the establishment of a department on rural education. It is urged that the farmers work to bring about an interest in industrial education on the part of the religious denominations. And that many of them are doing much for this kind of education for negroes but practically nothing for helping the white boys and girls in this respect. There is also a call in the report upon the Legislature to see to it that there is some permanent plan for insuring a six months' school term in addition to the prescribed statutory and constitutional provision to this end. Also the farmers want rigid enforcement of the compulsory school attendance law.

Progressive Farmer Organ.

The Union adopted the "Progressive Farmer" as the organ of the Union in this State. There was an effort to have a new paper called "The Carolina Farmer" adopted, but after the fight was made before the Union, there was only one vote against "The Progressive Farmer" as the official organ.

The question of the disposition of The Farmers' Alliance property at Hillsboro, valued at $20,000, through its donation to farm life school purposes and the raising of $10,000 to finance the school, in addition to the State and county appropriations that would come in, was referred to the executive committee, with indications that the plans will be passed on favorably.

The Independent Ice Company

Wishes to remind the users of Ice that several years ago, when we were the only manufacturers and distributors of Ice in and around Wilmington that we did not attempt to put up the price, but maintained the same old schedul that had been in force years before, although we had every opportunity to name any list of prices we saw fit. This is a cold-blooded fact, as cold and clear as any ice ever made in Wilmington, and is well worth public consideration, for the average Ice Maker would have without any hesitation put up the price, but that has never been the Independent Ice Company's way of doing business.

Two years, or more, ago, we were largely instrumental, through the medium of The Central Ice Company, of which we were large owners, of having a Special Ice Train put on at 6:00 A. M., to serve the Trolley Line patrons, at city prices.

For these considerations, we are not posing as public benefactors. They were simply good business moves, as we saw them. As for ice by other Beach trains than 6:00 A. M., the prices now in effect are the same that have prevailed for years past.

We wish to further remind the public of the superior services, and the full weight deliveries they have this season, the lack of which conditions caused such widespread complaints the past two years, when we were not directly engaged in the city delivery of ice.

That our ice and our services are appreciated is attested by the fact that our sales are 25 % or more greater this Summer than ever before.

CITY WILLING TO DO WORK

Council Decides to Take Over Entire Sanitary Department if Board of Health Desires It be Done. At Smaller Cost.

The city will take over the sanitary work of the health department in its entirety, this including scavenging, removal of garbage and carrion, if it is the desire of the County Board of Health that this be done after a conference has been held between that body and a committee of the City Council for the purpose of re-adjusting the budget for the health department which will be necessary in view of the fact that the budget as originally made up and under which the health department has been operating since the consolidation provides for an appropriation for the year of $9,000 for scavenging alone.

If the Board of Health is willing to cut the budget to the extent of the appropriation for the scavenging department for the remaining months of the fiscal year and also if other details of the proposed transfer can be arranged the city on September 1st will again undertake all the sanitary work. Whether the health officers or sanitary police, as they are now known, are to be transferred also is a matter of detail to be decided at the time the re-adjustment of the budget is considered.

Following the regular meeting yesterday morning the City Council held a conference at which the question was gone into quite thoroughly and the decision reached to take over the scavenging work, slop and carrion removal provided the proper arrangements, as outlined, can be made. Mayor Moore appointed Councilman Merritt, Loughlin and Chadwick as the committee to represent the Council in the conference with the County Board of Health. It is expected that this conference will be held today as it will be necessary to get all the details arranged this week if the city expects to take over the work Monday.

While it would naturally follow, in the event the city takes over the entire scavenging work, that the appropriation made to the health department for the scavenging would be discontinued, yet the Council has no right to change the budget as made up by the health department and it was suggested by City Attorney Bryan that the two bodies have a conference to make the necessary re-adjustment of the budget.

Members of Council believe that the city can do the scavenging work at less cost than it is being done at present by the health department and are satisfied that the revenue from the service will not only equal the expenditure, but will yield a fair surplus besides. Rather, this is the view of four of the five members of the Council—Councilmen Jones, Wood, Chadwick and Merritt, the fifth member, Councilman Loughlin, opposing any change in the present method. He remembered the experience of former city administrations when the scavenging was done either by licensed scavengers or by the city and declared that in his opinion the scavenging work would always be a source of trouble in Wilmington, as it is in many other places, but, remarked Councilman Chadwick, it is growing less all the time as the sewerage connections are being made in the different parts of the city.

It is not expected that there will be any objection on the part of the Board of Health to the proposed transfer of the sanitary work as members of that body have already declared themselves as willing to relinquish this work in favor of the city.

The city already owns the scavenging equipment that is being used by the health department and there will be no expense in providing teams unless it should be decided to add to or replace some of the present equipment.

During an informal discussion prior to the convening of the Council yesterday morning, much was said about the condition of an alley leading from Second street, between Market and Princess, which was inspected Tuesday at different times by Councilmen Loughlin, Merritt, Chadwick, Wood and possibly Councilman Jones, also; County Commissioner McGirt and others, including Mr. John C. McAlister, superintendent of streets, who made the trip with several different members. The alley and some of the back lots were pronounced by members of Council as being in a most insanitary condition. Several other places were visited, but this is the only one that brought forth much comment yesterday.

Conference This Morning.

It was learned last night that the conference between the committee of three from the City Council and a committee of like number from the County Board of Health will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock to arrange the details of the transfer. On the committee from the Board of Health are Chairman M. S. Willard, Dr. J. B. Cranmer and Dr. Chas. P. Bolles. The officials of the health department appear very much gratified at the prospect of having the sanitary work taken over by the city as it has meant a mass of additional work in the health department.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HANBY.

Services Held Yesterday Afternoon From Residence of Son.

The funeral of Mrs. Adrienne Hanby, who died Saturday night at the Summer home of her son Mr. Jno. R. Hanby, at Wrightsville Beach, was held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the residence of Mr. Hanby in the city at No. 405 Dock street, conducted by Rev. W. M. Craig, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church. The services were attended by a large number of friends not only from Wilmington but also from several other nearby towns. The interment ,which will be at Oakdale cemetery, was postponed until this morning at 10 o'clock in order that her son Dr. Joseph D. Hanby, of Plain View, Tex., might be present. He left his home Saturday night, and had expected to arrive yesterday at noon, but wired yesterday that he had missed connections, and would not be able to get here before this morning.

Frank Riggans Discharged.

Frank Riggans, a young white man, who was arrested several days ago on a charge of store breaking at Delgado, had a hearing yesterday before Justice Harriss and was discharged, there being no evidence to show that he was implicated in the several robberies that have taken place at Delgado recently. Edward Fryar and John Skipper, two other young men of Delgado, have had a hearing on similar charges and bound over to the next term of Superior Court. Robert Harper, a young boy, was tried Tuesday, and discharged. Herbert Johnson another young white boy, has been arrested on a charge of being implicated in the robberies, but has not yet had a hearing.

FIREMEN PICNIC AT BEACH

Chief Schnibben together with a large contingent of the city fire department spent yesterday at Wrightsville Beach, the occasion being the annual outing of the fire "laddies." A delightful feature was a sumptuous dinner served at the Seashore Hotel at 2 o'clock which was attended in addition to the "boys" by Mayor Moore and Councilmen B. A. Merritt, T. W. Wood and W. F. Jones and other guests. Today the other members of the department who remained in the city yesterday will have their outing at the beach.

After a pleasant morning spent in fishing and boating the firemen at 2 o'clock gathered around the festive board in the private dining room of the Seashore Hotel. The table was laden with a bountiful supply of eatables prepared in the Seashore's best style. Chief Schnibben was master of ceremonies, and it is needless to say that he made everyone feel at home. After full justice had been done to the splendid dinner, cigars were passed around and Chie fSchnibben said he would ask several of those present to make short talks.

He first called on Mayor Moore who responded in his usual happy style, and said that it was a great pleasure for him to be with the "laddies" on this occasion. He congratulated them for the splendid manner in which they had entertained the visiting firemen during the tournament, and the excellent way in which they conducted themselves. In his opinion Wilmington has one of the best fire departments of any city in the South, and certainly there are no better firemen to be found anywhere. He spoke in a reminiscent mood of the time when he served as a volunteer fireman, and said he was glad to have served under that whole souled Dutchman, Chief Schnibben, who has the love and esteem of all who know him. Mayor Moore was frequently applauded during the course of his brief remarks.

Councilman Jones was next called on, and expressed his great pleasure to be able to be with the firemen on the occasion of their annual outing. He endorsed what the Mayor had said concerning their splendid entertainment of the firemen during the recent tournament.

Councilman Wood was asked to make a speech by Chief Schnibben, but stated that his talents didn't run that way. He just wanted to be considered one of the boys, and it was with that understanding that he had come down, he said.

Councilman Merritt congratulated the force not only in having the best fire department in the South, but also the best chief in the whole country. On all occasions they had shown themselves to be firemen of the best type, and it afforded him the greatest pleasure to betheir guest on this occasion, he said.

Mr. J. B. Huntington, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was next introduced by Chief Schnibben, but begged to be excused from making a speech as he considered himself in the same position as Councilman Wood. He referred briefly to his experiences as a volunteer fireman in a far western town where he had learned to love the work and to know something of its hardships.

Mr. J. C. McAlister, superintendent of streets, in response to Chief Schnibben's call for a speech expressed his great pleasure to be with the boys, and assured them that in his work he tried to keep foremost as his watch word the principle of duty which he thought was uppermost in the heart of every fireman.

Mr. W. L. Burkheimer, "chief of the Sunset Park Company" in response to Chief Schnibben's demand for a speech, said that he felt a great deal better than when he came, and that next year he hoped to have several members of his company present at the annual outing.

Others who made short talks were Chief Engineer T. B. Jackson, Assistant Foremen Fritz Zellars and Foreman L. Freimuth. After an hour or more of enjoyment around the dinner table the meeting was closed with three cheers for the guests of honor and Chief Schnibben. In the afternoon a number of the firemen went to Shell Island on a fishing trip. The others remaind on the beach and spent the afternoon fishing and enjoying the pleasant sea breezes.

Today the other members of the department will have a day of rest and recreation. Chief Schnibben will again be master of ceremonies, and this is a sufficient guarantee that the day will be one of pleasure and enjoyment.

Charged With Embezzlement.

Thomas Edwards, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Special Officer H. Mack Godwin on a warrant issued by Justice Harriss, charging him with the embezzlement of $600. The money in question was received by his son from a railroad for injuries and given to his father to be held in trust, it is alleged. It is alleged that he appropriated it to his own use. Edwards gave bond in the sum of $400 for his appearance before Justice Harriss today for trial.

ANOTHER LARGE WAREHOUSE

Will be Erected by J. I. Metts & Son and The Worth Co. on Former Site of The Covington Co. on Grace Street.

Construction will begin next week on another large warehouse for Wilmington which will be erected on the site, southwest corner Grace and Water streets, on which stood the warehouses of the C. C. Covington Co., and James I. Metts & Son that were burned down about two months ago. The estimated cost of the new building is $8,000. The lease of the C. C. Covington Co. from the Atlantic Coast Line has been purchased by The Worth Company. James I. Metts & Son already hold a lease from the Atlantic Coast Line for the site on which their former warehouse stood.

The new warehouse will be built of corrugated iron, and the dimensions will be 100x200 feet. It will have water frontage and will also adjoin railroad tracks so as to afford easy and accessible means of shipping both by rail and by water. Contractors have been asked to submit bids, and it is expected that the contract for its erection will be awarded during the early part of next week. Work will begin immediately following the awarding of the contract.

The site on which the warehouse is to be erected was formerly occupied by The Covington Co., molasses importers, and James I. Metts & Son, hay and grain dealers, whose warehouses were burned down several months ago. Since that time The Covington Co. has completed arrangements for the erection of a large warehouse on a part of the old Kidder Mill property in the southern part of the city.

James I. Metts & Son will have a part of the new building being located near their former place of business. Since the fire they have secured temporary quarters.

The part of the new warehouse facing Grace street will be occupied by The Worth Co., wholesale grocers, who are now located at No. 1 Grace street. They will also move into the new building as soon as it is completed which will be about December 1st.

The warehouse will be built jointly by James I. Metts & Son and The Worth Co. Both these firms are among Wilmington's foremost business enterprises. The Worth Company does a large wholesale grocery business in this immediate territory. James I. Metts & Son, merchandise brokers, deal in hay, grain and seed, and have a large patronage.

BRUTAL ASSAULT WITH AXE.

John Covington, Colored, Attacked by Wife Early Yesterday Morning.

John Covington, colored, was brutally assaulted with an axe by his wife, Dollie Covington, while asleep at his home near the Swift Fertilizer factory on the west bank of the Northeast river, about two miles north of Wilmington yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, according to information received at police headquarters. He received two deep wounds on his head, several cuts on the legs and severe bruises on the thigh and chest where he was struck with the butt of the axe. Dr. Ernest S. Bulluck was called to render the necessary surgical attention, and thinks that he will recover.

The woman made her escape, and nothing has been seen of her since the assault. Immediately after the deed was committed the watchman at the Swift factory notified police headquarters. Captain C. W. Woolard notified the watchman at the Hilton bridge to keep a close look-out for the woman, but she did not cross the bridge during the early morning. Capt. Woolard also notified the watchman at Navassa to see that she did not take the early morning train at that point. It is thought that she must have hid in the woods nearby. Deputy Sheriff Kelly and others were out until a late hour last night working on the case, but were unable to find any trace of the woman.

Covington stated yesterday that last week he and his wife had a quarrel, and that during the dispute he slapped her. They soon settled the difficulty, however, and since that time everything seemed to be moving harmoniously. He was awakened early yesterday morning by the blows, and is sure that it was his wife as she ran out of the room as soon as he was aroused.

Dr. Bulluck's examination showed that there were two scalp wounds which penetrated the skin, and also two deep cuts on one of his thighs. After using the blade of the exe on his head and thigh the woman then used the other side of the axe across his chest and thighs.

She is described as a large mulatto woman with almost straight hair with a gold front tooth. It is thought that she must either have hidden in the woods or have come to Wilmington. Deputy Sheriff Kelly when notified yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock immediately set to work on the case, and spent most of the day making a close search, but without success.

SOME ROUTINE MATTERS UP

Estimates for Street Work Received by Council, But Action is Deferred—Sign Ordinance Amended—Meet Today.

The City Council in regular weekly session yesterday morning with Mayor Moore presiding and all member of Council in attendance amended the sign ordinance so as to permit the use of wooden signs across sidewalks upon application to the board, received estimates from the city engineer as to the cost of improving two short stretches of streets and considered one or two other matters before going into a conference to discuss several question on which action had been deferred.

A letter was received from the Decarie Incinerator Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., asking that a change be made in the form of notes given by the city to cover the balance of $24,000 due on the incinerator so as to make them negotiable. The notes were purposely made non-negotiable so that the city would be protected in the event the incinerator should prove defective, but it was suggested by Councilman Chadwick that the notes could be changed and made negotiable if the company would give the city a bond in an indemnity company. It was decided that the city clerk and treasurer write the company, stating the reason the notes were made non-negotiable and suggesting that they would be changed upon the filing of an indemnity bond.

The sign ordinance was amended so as to permit the placing of wooden signs other than electrical across the sidewalks in the discretion of the Council. In order to get this privilege it is necessary to file application with Council together with specifications. amendment to the ordinance.

Council granted license to J. G. Johnson to open a fresh meat market at No. 1410 Market and also one to J. N. Richardson, to open a market at No. 1120 North Fifth street.

Report was received from City Engineer Pillet on the estimated cost of improving with vitrified brick and asphalt blocks the block on Front street, from Red Cross to the concourse over the railroad tracks, and Second street, from Red Cross to Campbell with granite blocks. The Front street work he estimated would cost $2,937, $425 of which he calculated would be borne by the Tidewater Power Company, which has a spur track in the center of the street, leaving $2,512 for the city to pay. However, the Atlantic Coast Line has requested that the spur track be removed and placed on the Red Cross street side of the new union station, in which event the Tidewater Power Co., would not have to share in the expense of improving Front street. It was suggested that the Atlantic Coast Line might pay portion of the cost of improving the block and action was deferred until a later meeting. As to the improvement of Second street, from Red Cross to Campbell, the engineer estimated that the cost would be $1,940. When it was suggested by a member of the Council that the Belgian blocks on Front street, in front of the union station, could be used on the Second street improvement it was decided to defer action on this proposition also.

Councilman Jones presented a communication from Chief of Police Williams calling attention to the fact that the police call system was not rendering the service expected of it, the call bell system which is most needed by the department, not being in working order half the time. The city clerk and treasurer was instructed to notify the Gamewell Fire Alarm Co., of the reported defect in the apparatus. The contract reads that the company will make good any "inherent defect" accurring within three years.

Councilman Merritt, of the Streets and Wharves Department, made report of the accident at the incinerator Tuesday afternoon in which Mr. E. Shake, an employe of the street cleaning department, was badly burned, as told in yesterday's Star.

Permit was granted to The Worth Company to erect a warehouse at the foot of Grace street on the site of the former warehouse of the C. C. Covington Co., molasses importers and Gen. Jas. I. Metts, hay and grain dealer, which were recntly datroyd by fir. The new warehouse will be 100x200 feet in size, and will be occupied by both The Worth Company, which secured the lease of C. C. Covington & in the market, and by Gen. Jas. I. Metts. Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the fire department asked that on account of the difficulty in fighting a fire in a large building on the wharf that two buildings instead of one be erected, leaving a space of eight or ten feet between the buildings to admit of the use of a hose through the opening. Capt. E. A. Metts, of The Worth Co., argued that the liability of fire would be increased with the alleyway between the buildings and as there was no other buildings immediately adjoining, Council decided to grant the permit as requested.

Coupons to the amount of $4,202.50 all on general fund bonds, were destroyed.

From time to time members of the present Council have had something to say with reference to the use by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Sons of the docks at the foot of Walnut, Red Cross and Harnett streets and at the invitation of Councilman Merritt, Mr. W. H. Sprunt, of the firm, appeared before the Council yesterday and made a statement of the situation, which caused members of Council to see the matter in a different light and it was decided that the use of the property may continue as at present. The Council has not granted any exclusive privilege and anybody has the right to use the docks.

L. Clayton Grant, Esq., was before Council in behalf of a colored laborer who was hurt recently in an excavation while doing work on the extension of the sewerage system. The negro was present and stated that an avalanche of dirt from the side of the trench caved in on him. Council will investigate and take action next week.

There being several matter still not reached it was decided to hold a meeting this morning at 10 o'clock.

Mayor Moore inquired of the outcome of the order issued some time ago for the removal of the McIlhenny building at the northwest corner of Second and Market streets, which has been razed to within 10 or 15 feet of the ground and the work stopped there. The city attorney said that he was informed yesterday morning by Chief Schnibben, who is building inspector, that he had given permission to suspend work in tearing away the building until September 10th. Members of Council stated that the entire building was to be torn down and this doubtless will be done when work of razing it is resumed in September.

GOVERNORS IN SESSION.

Governor Baldwin of Connecticut Makes Principal Address.

Colorado Springs, Co. Aug. 27—State regulation of nominations, the same as of elections, was urged by Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, of Connecticut, in an address before the Governor's conference here this afternoon.

Governor Baldwin propesed that the state assume the expense of nominations so that the poor man would not be deterred from entering politics because of lack of necessary funds, which often furnished ground, he said, for the accusation that a worthy candidate though poor is forced to accept the help of those whose support is an incumbrance.

"Just as the State bears the expense of conducting elections, so should it bear the expense—or most of them—of candidates for party nominations at the primaries," said Governor Baldwin.

Here is the list of candidate's expenses which Governor Baldwin would have the State shoulder:

Printing and distribution of ballots and other papers required by law.

Traveling expenses of the candidates to and from appointments for meetings incident to the campaign, whether public or private.

Traveling expenses of speakers in their behalf to and from public meetings.

Copying poll or registry lists.

Providing challengers.

"The burden of legitimate expenses, in most States," Governor Baldwin said, "falls on the candidate for nomination and deters the poor man from entering the political lists, unless he puts himself under what he would be apt to deem an obligation to those who supply him with the necessary funds."

"The government must have a right," Governor Baldwin said, "in self-defence so to regulate the making of nominations, whether by party conventions or primaries or by direct primaries of the whole people, as, not to dictate the choice, but to assure that it fairly represents the choice of those who make it. The State must have a right, if the people are satisfied that such nominations by a party convention or primary can be replaced by another made of proceeding which gives them a better opportunity to make their wishes prevail to institute this other mode. And what the State can institute it can protect."

There are certain items of candidate's expenses which, in Governor Baldwin's opinion, it would be unwise to have the State pay. Among these are mentioned the cost of circulating nominating petitions and of hiring transportation for voters to polling places. The one, Governor Baldwin asserts, has shown that many persons sign such petitions without intending to vote for the candidate they thus help to place in nomination; the other could be made unnecessary by establishing more polling places.

Hall rent and a candidate's personal travel, postage, and telegraph bills, might properly be borne by the State as well as other items, Governor Baldwin asserted.

Governor O. B. Colquitt, of Texas, precipitated a lively discussion of the subject of state regulation of nominations when he declared that the idea is farcical and altogether impracticable. He stated that it cost him $16,000 to get elected, of which he paid $7,000 and his friends $9 000.

Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, Carey, o fWyoming, and Byrne, of South Dakota, spoke in support of Governor Baldwin's plan.

The governors spent the entire afternoon on Mount Manitou. After lunch, served on the mountain side, the Governors indulged in about two hours sport and recreations, a feature of which was a burro race.

NO ARREST FOR LYNCHING.

Members of Charlotte Mob Still Unknown to Officials.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 27.—No arrests have been been made for the lynching of the negro McNeeley early Tuesday morning when a small mob of 35 or 40 masked men went to the Good Samaritan Hospital and took the wounded assailant of Policeman L. L. Wilson, whom he had seriously shot, from his bed into the streets and riddled him with bullets. There is much indignation expressed at the surrender of the two policemen on guard and an effort will be made to demand their resignations before the board of aldermen. The executive board has held a hearing and heard their statements and there does not seem any disposition on its part to censure the officers.

The sheriff and acting chief of police have been criticised for not acting promptly when they heard that there might be an effort made to lynch McNeeley. Both claim they investigated and saw nothing that night to indicate that a lynching was imminent. Judge Shaw today corrected an impression that he was censuring the sheriff in his caustic charge to the grand jury, for while the sheriff might have been able to avert the lynching after it had been rumored one would likely occur, he was not officially connected with the affair and could not have been until the prisoner was placed in his custody.

Rumors and a fear that there might be trouble between the races on account of the lynching caused the local military company to be kept under arms while regular and special officers heavily armed patrolled the streets Tuesday night.

The general impression seems to be that even the heavy reward of $1,000 each, offered by the city for the arrest and conviction of the lynchers will not bring to light the identity of the men who killed McNeeley.

London, Aug. 27.—Sir Maurice De Bunson, the British Ambassador at Madrid, has been transferred to Vienna, to replace Sir Fairfax Leighton Cartwright, who has resigned. Sir Arthur Henry Hardinge, at present Minister to Portugal, has been transferred to Madrid.

MEXICO SILENT ON WILSON'S MESSAGE

ed General Huerta and his official family as to what to expect.

Mexico's counter policy has been will understood for several days, and officials join in declaring that the attitude of the United States will cause no change in the stand Mexico has taken. For days rumors have been current that General Huerta would resign, or that he would at least accede to enough of Washington's demands to permit a continuation of negotiations. A cabinet minister said this afternoon that General Huerta was determined to quit office, and that the summoning of the capitol of General Trevina had nothing to do with the change in the presidency. Huerta appears to believe that the pacification of the country can yet be accomplished by him.

As a proof of the progress already made in this direction the department of war refers to the reports of federal victories in various parts of the republic, and charges the stories of rebel successes as falsehoods. The administration points to the successful repairing of the main line of the National railway, and expresses the hope that service will be resumed within a few days. This would have been accomplished today, it is said, had it not been for the cutting of the line yesterday between San Lusi Potosi and Saltillo and the blowing up of a military train by a rebel mine.

The minister of finance professes faith in the happy outcime of negotiations with London or European banks in an endeavor to obtain $20,000,000, but it is stated generally that even should this loan fail there remains as a last resort the possibility of raising money in Mexico through increased taxes paid in advance. This plan has been seriously discussed.

In any case the Mexican government believes it can get money in some manner to carry its campaign to a conclusion, and is inclined to regard President Wilson's policy in a light not altogether unfavorable, since it will result in the cutting off of supplies to the rebels—a thing in which the Mexican government always has insisted the United States has been lax.

So far as the protection of foreigners is concerned, Mexico takes the position that she will do all in her power to guarantee this. The refusal of the United States to permit arms and ammunition to reach the Mexican government through American sources will not be such a serious handicap to General Huerta it is said, as he already has begun the purchase of supplies from Japan rnd has long been receiving consignments from Germany and Spain.

LONDON ON THE MESSAGE.

Comment by English Press Varies from Irony to Warm Praise.

London, Aug. 28.—The London morning papers commenting on President Wilson's message are not altogether sanguine of the wisdom or success of President Wilson's policy, but are agreed that it is almost certain to lead to American intervention, therefore indicating that a grave crisis has been reached.

The Morning Post says:

"President Wilson will have his hands full if he sets himself up as the censor of morals for the presidents of Latin-America and if the United States accepts the duty of supporting duly elected President, Mexico would become in fact if not in name, an American protectorate."

The Express says:

"President Wilson is not the man to bluff on such a question. From his stern and explicit message, it is clear that Mexico must either climb down or fight. If the former, she admits American suzerainty; if the latter, she must lose her independence, altogether. Great Britain has large interests and much to lose by war, but it is difficult to understand how British sympathy could be otherwise bestowed than on the United States.

The Daily Chronicle considers that President Wilson displays an excessive belief in the virtues of the ballot box, and if the United States, like other powers recognized Provisional President Huerta, he would have established an ordered government throughout Mexico.

The Daily News says that if only the European powers do not stiffen Huerta's back, President Wilson's policy will prove as judicious as it is prudent.

The Daily Mail in an ironical vein asks whether President Wilson supposes that the American citizen in Mexico managing public utilites representing $50,000,000 capital can put the railways and tramways in their pockets when they leave, or whether they are to leave them behind. It says the message should be quite popular in Mexico.

Berlin Doesn't Comment.

Berlin, Aug. 27.—The Berlin morning papers print President Wilson's message practically without comment. Only the Deutsche Tages Zeitung says that it is moderate and peaceable, but infers from the words that "patience and forbearance are demanded in the present situation," and that "the United States is only waiting until the roast is cooked through."

What Paris Thinks.

Paris, Aug. 27.—The Paris newspapers give much prominence to President Wilson's message, but the majority of them refrain from comment. The Petit Parisien prints in italics that part of the message in which Americans are urged to leave Mexico at once, and at the same time calls attention to the fact that war is in no sense contemplated.

The Journal says that whatever hope President Huerta may have placed in the belief that President Wilson's policy would not be supported, must now be dissipated, for, it declares, the message was an undoubted success.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

(From Broadway Weekly.)

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercolized wax treatment. Weather-beaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the despoiled cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scarf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored, or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no injury is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astringent-tonic lotion at this season is highly advisable: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pt. Used as a face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

WITH THE MOVIES

The Grand is certainly riding on the crest of the wave of popularity and big shows these days. It is attracting folks like a powerful magnet draws steel particles and it is making good in brilliant manner. Today there will be another swell bill at this handsome and cozy theatre, where the price of admission is ever small, 5 cents. Today's bill will embrace both comedy and drama, and will be headed by a story of unusual strength and fascination in Edison's "The Greed of Osman Bey." It is a love story of the Arabs and has plenty of fire to it. Lubin also has a strong dramatic on today, a factory story with a swing and grip, in "The Profits in the Business." It is one of the greatest dramatic's ever presented. The Vitagraph's latest "Out of the Storm," featuring Harry Northrop and Miss Rosemary Thelby, is also a star of today's big offering.

The Bijou's Show.

Again does the Bijou make announcement of a great Warner feature, those films that are being made by a special concern and that are proving the sensation of the moving picture world. Of course, it costs quite a bunch of coin to obtain the special features, but the Bijou cares not for that when the pleasure of its patrons are at stake, and it never reuses the price of admission, the same old tiny 5 cents remaining. It is noteworthy, too, that the Warner films are presented as extra features.

Today's great Warner feature is "Mexican Conspiracy Out-Generaled." It is a story a thriller of Mexico, and the drama was enacted directly in the heart of this country now seething with rebellion. That clever actress Martha Russell, appears in the star role, supported by a big company. Another notable star film the Bijou will offer today is "Through Another Man's Eyes," which is a Selig gripper that will immensely delight all.

"SQUELCH THE 'MASHER'."

A Few Arrests Would Have a Wholesome Effect, Says Asheville Citizen.

For whatever of interest it may have here, the following is reproduced from the Asheville Citizen, published in a city of average problems of all kinds, and which is also a Summer resort:

"While The Citizen yesterday morning might have gone into more embarrassing details in its story concerning the rout of a gang of local street 'mashers' by an irate brother-in-law Saturday night, enough was published to convince the average reader that a new generation of 'shoestring sports' has succeeded the old one which infested the streets of Asheville several years ago. For several weeks many complaints have been made of the good-for-nothing young loafers who line up in front of reputable business houses, greatly to the detriment of the latter, for no other purpose than to ogle, if not insult, respectable women who may pass or who may wish to enter the store. Here it would seem is a field of operation for the local police force; a few arrests would have a wholesome effect on the 'mashers', if it would not break up their practices altogether.

"The street masher is a product of idleness and self-conceit. The young man who is not a loafer has no time to hang around street corners and in front of business houses. The masher's vein of conceit lies in his assumption that all he has to do to make a conquest is to drape himself against a doorway and wait for victims. While there are laws against assault and battery, the average police court judge is inclined to look upon the man who mauls a masher as a public benefactor. Sometimes the creature can be found operating at railway stations in search of women who travel alone, but its field of operation is, as previously stated, on street corners and in front of business houses. The proprietors of these stores suffer the loss of hundreds of dollars annually because many women and girls have not the courage to pass the battery of rude and insulting eyes turned on them from every direction. To repeat, the police can do much to squelch the street ogler, but failing this no man can go far wrong if he takes the law into his own hands.

"The true gentleman is never found in the ranks of the masher; the acts of the latter are but the result of breeding, lack of education, usage and environment."

GAMBLE ON CHARLTON CASE.

Italian Lottery Players Get "Tip" From Celebrated Crime.

Naples, Italy, Aug. 27. — Porter Charlton, when he arrives on Thursday to be tried for the murder of his wife at Lake Como three years ago, will be taken in charge by a body of policemen and carabineers, according to orders issued today by the prefect and the chief of police. The instructions state that Charlton must not be allowed to communicate with outsiders. The officer in command of his escort will be held responsible for the safety of his prisoner.

The people of Naples consider Charlton's arrival a good opportunity to gamble in the local lottery, which is now being played for. The lottery booths spread over the city, displaying large placards today calling on the people to "play the numbers corresponding to the American millionaire who murdered his wife—18, 46, 90."

This means that those desiring to engage in the lottery should select the tickets the numbers of which end with the figures mentioned.

The Italians give a designation to each figure up to 100 in a lottery, and usually choose the word which strikes their fancy.

In this instance the number 18 corresponds to the word "blood;" 46 to "ill-assorted couple," and 90 to "lake."

The Italian authorities are considering a project for landing Porter Charlton at Genoa, instead of at this port, in order to avoid the crowd.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 27.—The great senate adopted a measure today providing for the superannuation of employes o fthe State and private railways.

TROOPS RUSHED TO BORDER.

Thousand Troops Held in Readiness at Fort Sam Houston.

San Antonio, Tex. Aug. 27.—One troop of the Third cavalry and a battery o fthe Third field artillery were rushed from Fort Sam Houston to the border tonight, upon orders from the War Department. Two special trains were made up on two hours notice.

The artillerymen were sent to Laredo and the cavalrymen to Brownsville. Attention was called to the fact that opposite Laredo there is a Mexand all the conveniences. The border from Brownsville the constitutionalists hold forth.

In addition about a thousand men are in readiness to leave Fort Sam Houston. Railroads have promised to have equipment on hand to accomodate 500 men and horses in 36 hours.

Wrightsville Beach

Mrs. W. D. James, Jr., of Maxton, is spending a few days at the Seashore Hotel.

Mrs. M. C. Rogers and son, Mr. Maxcy Rogers, of Gainesville, Ala., left yesterday afternoon for their home, after a stay of several weeks at the Seashore Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hinton and children have returned from a pleasant stay of a few weeks at Panacea Springs, N. C., and at their cottage on Wrightsville Beach.

The Hanover Inn closed Tuesday for the season. The hotel has been under the management of Mr. H. W. Foss, an experienced hotel man who may return to the resort next season. He will likely spend the Winter in Florida, where he was manager of a hotel before coming to the beach.

Tuesday afternoon the first seining of the Summer for mullets was made in front of the Carolina Yacht Club. Several hauls were made, but the catches were rather small. It is expected that the season will be a fine one, and that the several fishing crews which are making their headquarters at the beach will have fine success.

Included in the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were C. Fleming and C. P. Smith, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kimbrough and J. B. Stickney, Greensboro, Ala.; Miss Ina Edwards, Mars Hill; Miss Mary E. Powell, Blanche; Mrs. W. D. Jones, Miss Ina McNair and Mrs. J. A. Jones, Laurinburg; A. J. McKinnon, Maxton; J. F. Matthews, Baltimore; W. S. Glenn, Spartanburg, S. C.; T. M. Owen, Norfolk, Va.; Frank Carmichael, Laurinburg; L. G. Atkinson, Lake City; J. Arthur Henderson, A. I. Henderson and Miss Cordelia Henderson, Charlotte; Edward S. Moale, San Francisco, Cal.; John R. White, Augusta, Ga.; E. R. Suggs, Birmingham, Ala.

The last of the series of five yacht races for Class A boats was sailed yesterday afternoon over the course of the Carolina Yacht Club. There were five entries for the regatta, and the strong southeast wind that was blowing made a most interesting race. Capt. S. G. MacMillan, sailing No. 78, won first place, and Capt. W. M. Peck, in No. 71, was second. Capt. R. G. Rankin, in No. 69, held second place for a long stretch, but finally dropped back to fourth place. Capt. H. J. MacMillan, in No. 68, was third at the close. Capt. J. S. Brown in No. 66, made a fine start, but had to drop out before the finish.

This is the last regatta of the Summer for Class A boats. Capt. S. G. MacMillan won four of the races, making a total of 49 points out of a possible 50. He was declared the winner of the Jones-Walters loving cup. Capt. W. M. Peck won second place in the series, and was declared the winner of the trophy offered by the Carolina Yacht Club. These trophies will be formally presented to the winners at a banquet to be given in the near future at the Carolina Yacht Club building at the beach.

Next Monday afternoon there will be a yacht race open for all comers. There will be no restrictions as to the kinds of boats that may enter, and it is expected that there will be a large number of entries for this event.

Negro Taken from Jail and Killed—Has Assaulted White Man.

Jennings, La., Aug. 27.—James Comeaux, a negro, was lynched by a mob here early today. He was taken from his cell in the jail some time after midnight, shot to death and his body left lying at the jail door where it was found later by a night watchman.

Comeaux had been arrested for assaulting A. W. Joseph, an Italian merchant, who had accidentally swept dirt on the negro's shoes while he was passing the Italian's store.

Two of Joseph's relatives have been arrested in connection with the lynching.

INVESTIGATION AUTHORIZED.

Into Charges Against Judge Emery Speer, of the Federal Court.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The House today passed a resolution authorizing an investigation of charges against Judge Emery Speer, of the Federal Court of Georgia. The impeachment will be conducted by a sub-committee of the Judiciary committee, which originates impeachment proceedings.

The Judiciary committee today gave the House the substance of the charges made against Judge Speer in a report from Attorney General McReyonlds. These charges are that Judge Speer attempted bribery, took money from court funds for private purposes, contrary to the law employed his son-in-law about his court and offices, violated the bankruptcy laws, violated laws relative to the selection of juries, violated Supreme Court mandates; decided in favor of his son-in-law in matters relating to fees; used court officials as private servants, allowed the dissipation of assets of estates in the custody of the court's established receiverships without notice to owners, refused to allow the dismissal of litigation giving relatives fees; allowed money to remain without interest in banks, in which relatives were interested. Unlawfully seized and ordered sold property in litigation and used drugs.

It is probable that the investigation will not be undertaken before late in the Fall. The Judiciary committee of the House tomorrow is expected to accede to Judge Speer's request for postponement, which was accompanied by an affidavit from Dr. S. R. Rodgers, the judge's physician, stating that his patient was a hay fever sufferer and that it would be dangerous for him to come to Washington at this time of year.

The doctor, who said he had been Judge Speer's family physician for 22 years, declared that the judge does "not yield to any conduct or habits which would receive the condemnation or disapproval of his physician."

This was in answer to the charge that the judge used drugs.

TO CONSTRUCT CHANNEL.

From Deep Water to Village of Oyster, Virginia.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Construction of a channel 100 feet wide and six feet deep, with a suitable anchorage for small boats, from deep water to Oyster, Va., a small village in Accomac county, is recommended in a report today from the War Department to the House.

The recommendation is the channel dimensions be increased at entrance and on curves and the cost would be $22,500 for first construction and $2,000 annually for maintenance. Local interests contribute one-half of the cost of the original work prior to commencement of the Federal operations.

The business of the village, largely perishable sea food, amounts to $397,000 annually. Improvement of water facilities would facilitate the receipt of the sea food at Oyster preparatory to its shipment to markets by rail.

WILSON COUNTY FAIR.

Organizing for Next Year—Gov. Daughtridge to Speak on Europe.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, Aug. 27.—Very significant action was taken last night when the board of governors of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce after careful consideration gave a unanimous endorsement to the proposition to organize the Wilson Fair Association.

The promoters of the enterprise are all local men, both business men and farmers, and it is expected that the plans will materialize in time to hold the first fair—agricultural and live stock—in the late Summer of 1914. It is proposed to raise $10,000 from a stock issue, shares to be $25 each and a large number of shares have already been subscribed. The chief purpose of the association will be to further the agricultural interests of this county.

At the same meeting plans were put on foot for a general meeting of the farmers of the county and an invitation will be extended to Lieutenant-Goveror Daughtridge to address the people and tell them something concerning conditions as observed by him during his recent trip to Europe.

The traveling representative of one of the big plate glass factories spent yesterday in Wilson and in conversation stated that judging from the amount of business done by his firm during the past three years, Eastern Carolina was advancing more rapidly than any other section o fthe State. This gentleman covers the entire State and he says that he sells three times as much plate glass in this section of the State as in either the Piedmont or Western sections.

Mr. C. M. Fleming, local manager of the Imperial Tobacco Company, of England, has received a request from the home office for sample of Wilson county soil. Samples have been sent and will be carefully analyzed by chemists of the company with a view of ascertaining why tobacco of the same quality cannot be grown in the country over the water. Wilson county bright tobacco is in demand over in England. Along with the sample of soil Mr. Fleming sent some interesting fact concerning the yield of some Wilson county tobacco farms.

It now seems very probable that the plans outlined several weeks ago for a new hotel will materialize. The men behind the proposition state that the building will be modern, of concrete-block construction, with 75 rooms ican federal garrison and across the new hotel will be located on Nash street, near the Atlantic Coast Line site for the new station.

CORONER GIVES VERDICT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 28.—The death of John Young was "unintentional by Jess Willard," according to the verdict of a coroner's verdict tendered late this afternoon. The death was caused, the verdict says, "by concussion of the brain, due to a blow on the chin delivered by Jess Willard."

The prosecution had announced that the coroner's verdict would not affect the manslaughter charges against Willard, and 11 others as a result of the fatal fight last week, at the Vernon arena. The bout was refferred to as a prize fight in the verdict. This will be an important point in the prosecution, according to Assistant District Attorney Ford.

It was announced today that there would be "nothing doing" at the Vernon arena until the last of September at the earliest.

To Stop Scaling of Psoriasis

This Troublesome Skin Disease Promptly Checked by a very Simple Attention.

Classed with eczema, psoriasis has been considered one of the most obstinate of skin diseases.

A lady in Lexington, Ky., says that before she began using S. S. S. the disease broke out at frequent intervals where she thought it cured. But by getting her blood under control by the influence of S. S. S., psoriasis entirely disappeared and there was never again the slightest sign of it.

Like nearly all skin diseases, psoriasis is primarily due to impaired blood.

The skin is but a network of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates celiular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. Take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 182 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

COTTON EXTREMELY NERVOUS

Market Very Active, But Unsettled. Sharp Reactions and Aggressive Selling Were Features—Heavy Realizing.

New York, Aug. 27.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled today Trading continued very active, but was hardly as general as earlier in the week, and there was evidently heavy realizing on advances. This caused rather sharp reactions, but buying was aggressive in the late trading, with rumors that some of the sold out longs were replacing their lines and last prices were firm at a net gain of 16 to 23 points. October contracts sold at 12.20, or into new high ground for the movement, while later deliveries recovered to practically the best level of Tuesday.

The reactionary tendency which developed yesterday afternoon was reflected in today's opening prices at Liverpool, but the market there rallied sharply, and the start here found a good supply of buying orders around the ring. First prices were 20 points higher on August, and from 4 to 5 points higher on later months with new crop positions selling 14 points above last night's close during the first few minutes.

A private crop report making the condition 73.9 against 83 last month, contributed to this advance, but offerings soon became very heavy and the market eased off 10 or 11 points from the best during the morning. Reactionary sentiment was encourgaed by rains in the Eastern half and a favorable review of crop conditions in Georgia and the Carolinas, but the day's detailed reports showed record-breaking temperatures in the Southwest, while a Chicago house issued a condition report of 69.4, and there were rumors that the report of the National Ginners' Association would make the condition 69.3. These features were credited with checking the selling movement to some extent, and the market was very firm late in the day, with active months to 10 to 14 points net higher.

WAR ON 'SKEETERS AND FLIES.

Greensboro Almost Free of Pests and Public Health is Fine.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 27.—Dr. Battle and Mr. E. P. Wharton, who are leading the campaign in Greensboro against the house fly and malarial mosquito, are vigorously pushing the work of cleaning up the breeding places of the two pests, and are being loyally assisted by city officers.

A notice has been printed in the local papers that all persons who do not clean up their premises will be prosecuted to the full limit of the law. From 90 to 95 per cent. of the people have complied with the ordinance, but there are others who neglect to do it. Flies and mosquitoes have already been reduced to a minimum in the city. In fact, in the business part of the city they are becoming scarce. In no year have flies been so scarce as they are this year, and the health of the city is splendid. Crude oil is being sold at cost by the Public Service Company to those who will use it in killing out mosquitoes in pools and damp places.

FIVE HOMICIDE CASES.

Guilford County Faces Heaviest Criminal Docket It Has Ever Had.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C. Aug. 27.—The biggest docket of murder cases that Guilford county has ever had will face Judge Shaw when the September term of criminal court is opened here on the 15th of next month.

There are five cases in which four men and one woman, all negroes, will be placed on trial for their lives. It is anticipated that the one-week term will not be long enough to dispose of the docket, which contains many other cases also, and Governor Craig has been asked to change the following week designated by law for civil cases to non extension of the criminal term.

All of the killings were of a brutal nature. Four of the slain were negroes and one was white—a deputy sheriff. One killing was at Greensboro, one at High Point, two in the suburbs of Greensboro, and one in the county. The defendants and the crimes of which they stand charged are the following: Jim McClure for the murder of Deputy Sheriff R. L. Bain; Gertude Johnson for the murder of a negro woman at High Point; Ed Harris for the killing of his son, Lambeth Harris; Ed Clawson, for the murder of Jim Jeffreys; Ben Hazel, for the murder of his wife four years ago. Hazel was only recently apprehended in Coatsville, Pa., after a four year hunt by officers.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 27.—The primary cotton goods market was strong, and values on some goods showed an upward tendency. Brown sheetings were in good demand for home consumption. Some business was done in cottons of this sort for China. Worsted yarns were quiet and fairly firm. Cotton yarns are being revised upward. Women's silk hosiery in high colors are being purchased by the retail trade.

THE STOCK MARKET STEADY

Undertone Was Good, Although Fluctuations Were Narrow—Several Points of Weakness Disappeared Toward End.

New York, Aug. 27. — Until the last hour of trading today, stocks were steady, with a good undertone, although fluctuations were narrow. Such movements as occurred were mostly upward, with specialties, including American Ice, American Agricultural Chemical, People's Gas and Sears-Roebuck in the lead. Toward the close of the day, several points of weakness appeared. Union Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley, New York Central, Can, Smelting and various other stocks fell off one to two points and the whole market was heavy at the close.

Mexican affairs retained first place in the determination of the stock market sentiment. After orders on hand at the opening had been executed, the market settled down to await President Wilson's message and trading came almost to a standstill. It was an hour after the message reached the street before the list began to decline. Smelting, which has heavy interests in Mexico, was the weakest stock among the leaders. The slump appeared to be due, however, less to any alarm over the situation, than to selling by bears. Union Pacific's decline was influenced by the favorable July statement showing a decrease in net earnings of $671,000. New Haven again developed weakness in the early trading, falling 2½ to a new low record at 103¾. United States Express made another low record by falling 8¼ to 40½.

Bonds were irregular. A number of important issues showed a considerable degree of strength. Total sales, par value, $1,490,000. United States 4s, registered, declined ¼c. on call. Total sales of stocks today were 199,900, including: A. C. L., 100; C. and O., 900; L. V., 1,500; N. and W., 600; Reading, 28,700; Southern Railroad, 200; do. pfd., 100; T. WILSON EXPLAINS MEXICAN POLICY possible way, but in emphatic language served notice upon those who assume to exercise authority in the revolution torn country that they would be held to a definite reckoning for losses and suffering to American citizens.

Enthusiasm Greets Message.

The message of the President was received with enthusiastic applause by members of the House and Senate gathered in joint session in the House chamber, and tonight the amchinery of the government is in motion to making effective the policy of neutrality and "hands off" while the warring factions continue their struggle. To prevent the shipment of arms or munitions of war into any part of Mexico or to any faction, the United States troops on the border already have been warned to exercise increased vigilance. Whether more troops will be sent to the border is a question to be determined within the next few days. Major Gen. Wood, chief of staff of the army, who has been inspecting the troops in Texas, already is on his way to Washington.

Gen. Wotherspoon, attached to the office of the chief of staff, said tonight that much would depend upon the experience of the next few days on the border in determining upon the order for more troops. Secretary Bryan planned to confer with President Wilson early tomorrow on the subject and the assurance was given that everything necessary would be done to carry out strict neutrality.

Secretary Daniels conferred with the President during the day, and the Navy Department is ready to dispatch more ships to Mexican waters if required to prevent the shipment of arms to Mexico by sea.

Foreign powers, it was understood tonight have not been asked to place an embargo on the shipment of munitions of war or arms to Mexico, but the President in his message asserted that this government had been given the generous moral support of foreign nations in the proposals to the Huerta government, which have been rejected. It became known that the administration has under serious consideration the ordering of several thousand more troops to the Mexican border line and it is said that cabinet members have urged that this be done.

Americans Urged to Leave Mexico.

The President's urgent request to "Americans in Mexico to leave the country, emphasized to Congress the necessity for action on the recent request of Secretary Bryan for an appropriation of $100,000 with which to aid citizens of the United States in their exodus from the scene of conflict. Such an appropriation is included in a deficiency bill now in the hands of the House appropriations committee and it is expected that action upon it will be hastened. The State Department estimates that there now are in Mexico not more than 15,000 Americans, whereas there were 60,000 several years ago. In Mexico City, it is estimated that there are less than 2,000 Americans today.

The diplomatic relations between the two countries, it is understood, will remain as they are at present, each country maintaining an embassy without official recognition, presided over by a charge d'affaires. Though the President made it plain in his statement that all negotiations thus far have come to naught, and the message of Foreign Minister Gamboa rejecting for the Huerta government the American proposals, left no room for doubt as to the situation, the way is open for future negotiations, either at the initiative of Mexico or the United States.

Meanwhile, Nelson O'Shaughnessy probably will remain in Mexico City in charge of the American embassy. John Lind, the President's personal representative, still is in Vera Cruz and probably will remain there as long as there is any possible chance for a renewal of negotiations.

In his message, which was in the nature of an appeal to the moral forces of this and foreign nations, the President made it clear that he based high hope upon the effect the announcement of this government's policy will have upon not only the people of this country and the governments of other nations, but upon the people in Mexico themselves. Now that the United States has exhausted the effort to bring about peace and a stable Mexican government, the President believes that this government's example to the world will avail great good in the end.

"The steady pressure of moral force," he said, "will before many days break the barriers of pride and prejudice down and we shall triumph as Mexico's friends sooner than we could triumph as her enemies—and how much more handsomely, with how much higher and finer satisfactions of conscience and of honor."

The President told Congress that everything this nation did in the situation confronting it must be "rooted in patience and done with calm, disinterested deliberation." He had no word of rebuke for Mexico, and reached the determination to maintain strict neutrality after having presented the whole situation to the members of the Foreign Relations committees in Congress. Not an essential detail did the President withhold in his presentation of the case for the public, publishing also to the world the reply of the Mexican government to Mr. Lind in which Senor Gamboa refers to the American proposals as "humiliating," denies the representation by President Wilson that Mexico had not made progress toward peace and though expressing appreciation of the avowed friendly intent of the United States, declares that if such good offices are to be of the character of those now tendered us, we should have to decline them in the most categorical and definite manner." Everything that Mexico had said to this government in response to the proposals was made public, including the Huerta alternative, that nothing could be welcomed except unrestricted recognition of his government. After he had concluded his message and listened to the applause which greeted it, the President turned toward the White House to await its effect. He believes that it will be beneficial.

Attitude of the United States.

The President in his statement today announced the position of the United States to be as follows:

"No armed intervention.

"Strict neutrality, forbidding the exportation of arms or munitions of war of any kind from the United States to any part of the Republic of Mexico."

Under no circumstances "to be the partisans of either party to the contest that now distracts Mexico, or constitute ourselves the virtual umpire between them."

To urge all Americans to leave Mexico at once, and to assist them to get away in every way possible.

To let every one in Mexico who assumes to exercise authority know that this government "shall vigilantly watch the fortunes of those Americans who cannot get away and shall hold those responsible for their sufferings and losses to a definite reckoning."

"That can and will be plain beyond the possibility of a misunderstanding," declared the President.

Negotiations for the friendly mediation of the United States are open to resumption at any time upon either the initiative of this government or of Mexico.

Huerta's Rejection.

The reply of the Huerta government rejecting the American proposals written by Foreign Minister Gamboa suggested the following alternative policy for the United States:

Reception of a Mexican ambassador in Washington.

That the United States send a new ambassador to Mexico without restraints.

Strict observance of the neutrality laws and "see to it that no material or monetary assistance is given to the rebels."

Unconditional recognition of the Huerta government.

President Wilson read his instructions to John Lind.

"All America cries out for a settlement," read the note Mr. Lind bore to Mexico. "A satisfactory settlement seems to us to be conditioned on:

"An immediate cessation of fighting throughout Mexico, a definite armistice, solemnly entered into and scrupulously observed;

"Security given for an early and free election in which all will agree to take part;

"The consent of Gen. Huerta to bind himself not to be a candidate for election as President of the Republic at this election, and;

"The agreement of all parties to abide by the results of the election and co-operate in the most loyal way in organizing and supporting the new administration."

Praise for Lind.

The President emphatically praised the execution of his mission by Mr. Lind and said he was led to believe the Huerta government rejected the American proposals "because the authorities at Mexico City had been grossly misinformed and misled upon the spirit of the American people in the matter, and upon a mistaken belief that the present adminstration did not speak for the people of the United States." So long as such a misunderstanding continued, the President asserted that this nation "could only await the time of their awakening to a realization of the real facts."

"The situation," declared the President, "must be given a little more time to work itself out in the new circumstances."

Senor Gamboa's note which was appended to the President's address as an exhibit, was not read by the President, but was furnished to Congress as a printed document.

Opening Prayer Impressive.

Mrs. Wilson and her daughters and Secretary Bryan had taken places in the executive gallery. Other members of the cabinet had taken places on the floor. Every head in the chamber had been bowed and solemnity of the occasion was impressive as the House chaplain, the Rev. Harry D. Couden, in his opening prayer said:

"Rule thou in the heart of our rulers and sway the minds of these thy servants, that as a nation, we may move forward to all that is pure and noble, until all the peoples of all the world shall recognize the purity of our motives."

Although a deafening volley of applause rang out as the President appeared, he plunged into the reading of his message without delay and with a bow of acknowledgment of the greeting.

The President finished reading at 1:21 o'clock. Another roar of applause broke out.

All those in the galleries stood while the President left the chamber and started back to the White House.

The joint session at once dissolved, the House adjourned and the Senate filed back to its side of the Capitol.

Governors' Comments.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 27.—The Denver Post today prints statements of 19 Governors attending the conference of Governors at Colorado Springs on President Wilson's Mexican message. Most of the statements are favorable.

Governor McDonald, of New Mexico, declared that the President was right in his views as to the hopelessness of Huerta's attempts to restore order. "As to armed intervention," he added, "I cannot say that I am in favor of it."

Governor Colquitt, of Texas, remarked: "Wilson seems to have come around to the opinion of the Texas Governor when he says peace and Huerta are at opposite poles."

Governor Slaton, of Georgia, said the United States would not be justified in intervention except under the necessity of protecting its own citizens.

Governor Spry, of Utah, said: "It is easy to tell Americans to get out of Mexico. None of us want to see war, and personally I don't think the whole of Mexico is worth the lives it might cost, but if we have to go in there with an army, I am in favor of doing the job right, and taking over the entire country for ourselves."

Ultimate war with Mexico is forecasted by Governor Byrne, of South Dakota, who says the Wilson plan "looks to me to be rather a weak policy."

Governor Lister, Washington: "It seems to me that the President's position is logical."

Governor O'Neal, of Alabam: "Huerta can never pacify the country and it would be disgraceful for this country to recognize a man like him. I see no occasion for intervention by this country."

Ammunition Seized.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 27.—Fifty thousand rounds of rifle cartridges, consigned to Mexican Federals in Juarez, were held up here today by government officials. The shipment arrived here Tuesday, but the Mexicans delayed the exportation and were confronted with annulment of the permit.

Sergt. Edward Johnson, a Mexican attached to a command of Federals in Juarez was arrested here today by government agents in the act of driving off with a trunk containing 4,000 rounds of ammunition.

Protest Aroused.

Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 27.—Protest was aroused along the Arizona-Sonora border tonight by President Wilson's recommendation that American leave Mexico. Hundreds of Americans in Sonora State have all they possess in Mexico, in many instances the accumulation of a lifetime.

One result of the message was the increased activity of troops of the border patrol. All vehicles and pedestrians crossing the international line were searched for arms and ammunition. Hardware stores suspected of aiding in ammunition smuggling operations in the past were placed under night and day guard.

MECKLENBURG SELLS BONDS.

Gets Bid of $25 Premium on Four and a Half Percent. Securities.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 27.—The four and a half per cent. bonds of Mecklenburg county for a new jail, according to Chairman Long, of the County Commissioners, have been sold to Bellonby & Whaley, of Augusta, Ga., at $25 premium, the money to be placed on deposit in Baltimore and checked out as needed. The issue is for $110,000; $75,000 to go for the new jail and the remainder for bridges.

THAW VICTORIOUS OVER NEW YORK AUTHORITIES

Hornbeck, of Dutchess county, Superintendent Kieb, of Mattewan and John E. Mack, former district attorney of Dutchess county, will depart, and with them Sheriffs and deputies of Vermont and New Hampshire who were ready to sring themselves along the border line and seize Thaw in event of his deportation.

Messrs. Jerome and Kennedy will confer at Quebec with the Attorney General of the Province in the hope that he as the province's chief officer of the crown, may be able to open the legal lock that holds Thaw in jail.

Issues Statement.

From his cell tonight Thaw issued the following statement:

"May I acknowledge the fair play accorded by every one since my arrival in Canada and express my gratitude for the sympathy shown by Canadian people in my present struggle to regain liberty and thank especially all the Canadians that I have come in contact with personally. It is much better than I deserve and entirely at variance with the malice shown in New York.

"It is only fair to make clear that the people of New York are all right, no unfairness can be found in the people of New York. A proof of this was found in the vicious opposition to giving me an honest jury trial shown by the undemocratic attorney-general.

He and his pals know that a New York jury would stand for fair play, too."

Outbursts of Sympathy."

There were outbursts of sympathy in Thaw's behalf when Judge Globensky declined to allow Samuel Jacobs, of Montreal chief counsel for New York to submit arguments against the discontinuance of the habeas corpus writ.

From the back of the court room came the cry: "Give him fair play," a woman screamed and the crowd surged forward.

Thaw responded to the demonstration with profound bows, but retreated as the throng swept toward him, sweeping court attendants and police aside in its rush.

The prisoner sought refuge in the ante-room used by newspaper men and soon afterwards was on his way back to jail, again cheered by the crowd outside.

When court re-assembled this afternoon and the crowd, doubling that of the morning, arose as the Judge took his seat, a hush feel over the room. Then the court spoke, first in English, then in French.

"I was shocked this morning," he said, "to be witness of a most disgraceful scene in this court, one which would give a very poor idea of the dignity with which the sitting of our court are held and which I trust and hope will be taken as the exception, not the rule. I have long been at the bar and I have been some time on the bnch, but I must declare that I have never before witnessed such a scene and that if any attempt is made to repeat the conduct of the morning I will have the guilty parties placed in jail.

AMENDMENTS REJECTED.

Administration Money Bill Nears Final Approval.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Rejecting all amendments offered without the approval of the Banking and Currency committee, the House Democrats in caucus today carried the administration currency bill further along towards final approval.

Representative Harrison of Mississippi, introduced an amendment to permit any share holding bank in the proposed reserve system to make reasonable charges for collecting and remitting checks and drafts. This was voted down, but it may be reported later in a committee amendment.

Representative Henry, of Texas, offered as a substitute for the entire note issue election the Shafroth bill which would retire national bank notes, gold certificates and outstandis United States notes and establish a goverment currency with a 50 per cent. gold redemption fund. He said his purpose was to keep the reserves of the country banks at home. The proposition was rejected 68 to 13.

The caucus adjourned until tomorrow, without acting upon another Henry amendment which would eliminate altogether the section of refunding bonds.

Slim attendance is greatly interfering with the work of the caucus. Adjournment is necessary whenever the opposition to the bill makes the point of no quorum. The chairman, Representative Palmer, expected to be at his home, Stroudsburg, Pa., with Secretary Bryan, who is to speak there, but he cancelled the engagement in order to keep at the task of holding more than a corporal's guard in the caucus.

Democratic members of the Senate Currency committee spent another day reading and discussing the provisions of the bill, and had gone over all but a few paragraphs tonight. Thus far the committee has given no definite consideration to amendments..

EXAMINE CREDENTIALS.

Of Henry D. Clayton as Senator From Alabama.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections tonight began consideration of Representative Henry D. Clayton's credentials as a Senator from Alabama to succeed the late Senator Johnston. A speech by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas upholding the right of Governor O'Neal to appoint Mr. Clayton, and a general discussion on the constitutional amendment for direction election of Senators featured the session. No action was taken.

An earnest argument in favor of seating Mr. Clayton was made by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who pointed out that the new 17th amendment provided in its closing words: "This amendment shall not be so construed as to election of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the constitution." He said the controversy in the Clayton case turned upon the word "term", and that the "term" of Senator Johnston would continue until 1915, no matter how many other Senators may occupy the office.

"So there is no way for a Senator to get rid of his term?" inquired Senator Kenyon.

"No, unless he resigns, and he seldom does that," replied Senator Robinson.

"If Congress had intended to provide what you say it did, would it not have used the words 'term for which any senator is chosen'?" suggested Senator Pomerene.

Senator Robinson quoted several State decisions to support his position.

R. B. Evans, legal adviser to Governor O'Neal, of Alabama, argued that strict indeed must be the construction of the law which would deprive a sovereign State of that equal representation to which the Constitution entitled it. He further argued that Senators are State officers, and under the Alabama law, the Governor was authorized to fill vacancies in State offices.

NATIONAL RIFLE CONTEST.

Forty-five Teams from Many Nations Compete at Camp Perry.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 27.—Shooting of the final try-out of the National rifle teams, was concluded this evening and good work was done on the firing line. Final eliminations were made and all of the 45 National teams now are lined up for the great contest.

The Argentine and Peruvian teams spent part of the day shooting at the 300 metre ranges, but gave out no score, as they were not for record.

The new arrivals, the French, Swiss and Swedish teams, visited the firing line and some of the men fired a few shots to get a line upon the targets and ranges. There will be practice work tomorrow on the ranges of the 300 meter targets by all the foreign teams.

In threads, Murhausen is one of the most important cities in the world, and last year furnished $1,600,000 worth of its output to the United States.

BITS OF HISTORY
RICHARD III AND HENRY VII
At the Battle of Bosworth Field, August 22, 1485, Richard II was slain and the Earl of Richmond, who had long been impatient for the Crown, was crowned on the battlefield and became Henry VII.
Richard had worn his brilliant crown into battle and had become a shining mark for his foes which cost him his life.
People often parade their jewels or their money and in this way become shining marks for their enemies. Display of wealth by excessive jewel wearing and the exhibition of money is vulgar and dangerous. Well bred persons accumulate wealth quietly and later enjoy it unostentatiously. Are you accumulating?
